Former President Herbert Hoover, 90, Passed Away Shortly Before Noon Today In His Suite In Waldorf Astoria Towers

NEW YORK (AP) — Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st president of the United States, died today at the age of 90.

Death came at 11:35 a.m. His death followed a recurrence of massive gastro intestinal hemorrhage.

The staunch old statesman, whose life spanned a varied career of engineering, high office and humanitarian service, had kept busy almost to the last. Hoover's two sons were at his bedside when the end came.

WORK WAS RULE
"Work" was his rule. He called it "the best antidote to talk of ill and pills."

Death came quietly at his apartment at the Waldorf Towers which he described as his "comfortable monastery."

Hoover will lie in state in St. Bartholomew's Church, Park Avenue and 51st Street, for two days. After memorial services, he will be taken by train to Washington.

There, he will lie in state under the rotunda of the national capitol.

Following services there, his body will be flown to West Branch, Iowa, where the final services will be held as he is laid to rest in the national park at the site of the small cottage where he was born in 1874.

FOUGHT AILMENTS
Repeatedly, and sometimes almost miraculously in his later years, he had fought off serious ailments.

But time, and its wear, finally claimed him. No other former president except John Adams, the nation's second chief executive who died at 90, had reached such an advanced age. Adams lived 90 years and eight months. Hoover, 90 years and two months.

Hoover, who passed that mark Aug. 10, 1964, said in a birthday message that the key to America's abundance is its freedom.

SPIRIT, DIGNITY
"Freedom is the open window through which pours the sunlight of the human spirit and of human dignity."

As president when the "great Depression" hit the nation in 1929, Hoover endured much abuse, but he lived to regain wide affection and esteem as a wise, humane elder statesman. He was sought out for counsel by Democratic officeholders, as well as Republicans. Countless friends and admirers came to love him as a man of immense sympathies and gentle wit.

Even his grave illnesses of recent times did not stop him from leisurely conversations with callers, and from keeping two secretaries at work with his writing.

SLOWED DOWN
Until lately, it had taken night of them to keep up with his output. But waning health slowed him down.

He underwent surgery for an abdominal cancer in August, 1962; made an astonishing comeback from anemia brought on by intestinal bleeding in June, 1963, and recovered from a kidney hemorrhage complicated by a respiratory infection in February, 1964.

Asked how he felt on his 90th birthday, he said, "Too old."

He didn't make it to the 1964 Republican Convention in San Francisco, although he had attended every other one since 1928. But "the grand old man of the Grand Old Party" sent a farewell message, noting he had offered his last word before, but "this is really it."

PEACE MESSAGE

In that message, he said "peace of the world is the first obligation of statesmen and government" and that the "major world issue today is whether government shall be the servant or master of men."

Hoover's image was that of "American individualism" and of unwavering devotion to country.

"The soul of our America," he once said, "is its freedom of spirit and mind in man."

His range of public service included direction of massive relief operations in World War I, food administration at home, secretary of commerce and then the presidency from 1929 to 1933.

FOOD SURVEYS

In later years, he made worldwide food surveys for the government, was chairman of the nonpartisan Hoover Com-

CHILD WELFARE APPEALS FOR XMAS GIFTS

The Adams County Child Welfare Advisory Board is making its annual appeal for Christmas gifts for the 128 youngsters under its care.

At Monday night's meeting of the board in the Child Welfare offices in the Topper building, Mrs. Edward Zinn, New Oxford, chairman of the services committee, announced the annual list of gifts desired by the youngsters has been compiled and said organizations and individuals wishing to give Christmas gifts to the youngsters are asked to notify the Child Welfare office. Each year a number of organizations and individuals select a gift requested by a child, or donate funds from which the advisory board purchases the gifts desired. Each youngster old enough to do so is asked to suggest three things he or she would like for Christmas and the board attempts to fill one of those wishes.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Any money left over goes into a fund used during the year to provide special items for the children as needed. Sometimes, Mrs. Zinn explained, the money may go to buy a class ring for a high school student under Child Welfare care, or for music lessons for some child who is unusually talented. Those planning to donate gifts or money should do so by next month so the gifts can be distributed by Christmas.

The report of the secretary, Miss Dorothy Curtis, showed the number of children under care of the county agency continues to increase. Care was extended to two additional youngsters last month, bringing the total to 128, representing 60 county families.

The report showed that 42 of the youngsters are still in their parental home, 12 are in the homes of relatives, 37 are in foster homes, two are in free foster homes, four are in adoptive homes and 31 are in institutions.

Four foster home applications were received during the month

NAME BAKER TO JAYCEE BOARD

Edward Baker was elected a director of the Upper Adams Junior Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Monday evening in Arendtsville.

Baker, who had served as chairman of the punt, pass and kick project which was co-sponsored by the Gettysburg Jaycees reported at the meeting that the project, held October 10, "was very successful." Four of the winners were from the Upper Adams area.

Walter Raudabaugh reported seven of the members attended the October state board meeting held at Washington, Pa., where the three outstanding young men of Pennsylvania were named. Among the Upper Adams members attending were Raudabaugh, Robert Reid, Sterling Kint, Robert Grubbs, Harold Ditzler, Thomas Zeigler and John Weber.

Kenneth Baltzley, Arendtsville, was enrolled as a new member of the Jaycees at the meeting.

Speaks On Berlin Wall Wednesday

Miss Elizabeth Meyers, Harrisburg visiting nurse, will give an illustrated talk on the Berlin wall Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the social room of the Bendersville Lutheran Church. Miss Meyers is a native of Germany who came to the United States in 1959 and will become a U. S. citizen in December. She returned to Germany in 1963 and has seen the effect of the wall in Berlin. The program is sponsored by the Bendersville Lutheran Church Women.

K. COLE NAMED CREW LEADER FOR AG CENSUS

Kenneth J. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Cole, E. Stevens St., and president of the Young Democrats Club of Adams County, has been named crew leader for the 1964 census of agriculture. John G. Gibson, director of the regional office of the U. S. Bureau of the Census, Philadelphia, announced today.

The new crew leader, one of about 1,825 persons throughout the U. S. to receive this appointment, will supervise a team of census enumerators who will visit all farms and ranches in Adams County to collect official questionnaires from farm operators. Enumeration of all farms in the county will take place in November and early December.

CENSUS STYLE

The census will be taken in the following way: Shortly after November 5, the Bureau of Census, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will mail census questionnaires to all rural boxholders. Those required to fill out the forms should do so and hold the questionnaires until a census enumerator comes to collect them. At that time, the enumerator will help answer any questions that may have proved troublesome.

The crew leader is a key person in conducting a census of agriculture. He recruits and trains the enumerators, schedules their work, reviews the accuracy of completed forms and conducts difficult interviews.

The census of agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest crops, livestock inventories and information on farm equipment and improvements and income and some production expenditures.

The information will be published starting in 1965 for counties, states and the nation.

HANOVER GIRL NOT GUILTY IN ASSAULT CASE

Miss Linda Donnelly, 19, South St., Hanover, was found innocent Monday afternoon by an Adams County jury of a charge of assault by motor vehicle. At the same time the jury directed that she pay the costs of the case.

Three Midway young people told the jury Miss Donnelly had sought to run over them with her auto as they walked home from a dance in Pennville on August 4.

Alicia Bennett, Maple Ave.; Joanne Drago, Jefferson St., and Frank Higgins, Diller Rd., claimed that on three occasions that night Miss Donnelly's car swerved toward them. On the last occasion Higgins said: "I had to pull Joanne out of the way or she would have been hit. I looked back when Alicia hollered and saw the car coming."

CLAIM 3 ATTEMPTS

According to all of the testimony about 200 young people left a dance at the Acme in Pennville at about 10 o'clock on the night of August 4. On Forney Ave. Miss Donnelly's car came close to the trio and others and stopped. At this point, according to Miss Donnelly's testimony, she had difficulty getting her car through because of the numerous youths on the road and she said that she yelled at a group, which included the trio accusing her of assault by auto, to "get out of the road." She said she had to swerve at one point because of

COUNTY BANKS ARE SAID TO BE STATE'S BEST

"An analysis of the banking structure of Adams County would show it to be one of the finest in the state. All of the banks are well managed and competitive, which is very good," J. Bruce MacLay, vice president of the Gettysburg National Bank, told the Rotary Club in a talk given Monday evening in the YWCA.

MacLay, a member of the club, noting that the subject he was assigned was "Savings Banking," said, "Savings banking is only about 60 per cent of the business of our banks today. The rest is commercial and trust."

"A savings bank, or the savings department of a bank, which would better describe the situation in regards to most banks, is an institution to bring together lenders and borrowers — those who wish to save now and spend later with those who wish to spend now and save later. It is an exchange of claims on money. One has a passbook. The other has a note, a mortgage or a bond."

ANCIENT RECORDS

"Banking in its present form is relatively new. Commercial banking, however, is relatively old. Ancient records, including the Bible, speak of commercial banking."

"Banks came into existence when men changed from a more or less direct exchange of goods to use of money. Savings banking arose with an economic order based on exchange of an adequate supply of money. Thrift became a means of thwarting the uncertainties of the market system. It became a virtue to provide for the future in terms of money rather than hoarded goods or food."

Eisenhower Speculates On Khrushchev's Removal; Sees Trouble If Peking Starts To Develop Sizable Nuclear Capacity

By RELMAN MORIN
And MARVIN ARROWSMITH
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says "I am not one of those who feels too good about Khrushchev being removed."

With the momentous change in the Soviet government, he added: "The Russians can go either way. They can move closer to us or closer to Red China."

Eisenhower discussed last week's developments in the Soviet Union and Red China in an interview with The Associated Press in his Gettysburg office.

HAD NO BRIEFING

He emphasized that he has had no briefings from official quarters, and repeated several times, "We are just speculating among ourselves here."

He spoke rapidly, in the manner of a man who has been thinking a good deal about the topics under discussion.

The former president said he believed it would take the Chinese Reds several years before they become a formidable nuclear power.

Answering a question, he said: "I would think it would take five years to be a really significant thing, because one of the big things they have to work on is a means of delivery. And as for a means of delivery, they haven't any plane bigger than a fighter or a light bomber."

DEFENSIVE POTENTIAL

"The only place they can reach with that would be their old friends, the Russians. India would be the only other place I can see where they would be any good. And even there they couldn't use much of a fighter plane. No, I think that until they get any real nuclear capability, they might build defensive weapons."

However, Eisenhower said, he could envision potential trouble

U.N. FACING GRAVE CRISIS SAYS SPEAKER

The United Nations is facing the gravest constitutional crisis since its establishment, "but I am optimistic for its future," J. Paul Phillips, Washington, D. C., public affairs advisor for the U. S. State Department, told 130 gathered Monday evening at the Holiday Inn for the annual United Nations Week program here.

The "most serious problem so far" must be resolved when it begins its sessions this fall. "The question is whether Russia and the other delinquents will pay the money they owe for U. N. operations. If they do not pay, Article 19 of the charter is clear, they will lose their vote in the next General Assembly. There is some hope this problem will go the same way the problem of the Troika disappeared. There is some hope that if the rest of the nations present a united front, they will pay their back dues and the financial problem will be solved," Phillips said.

SEES NO CHANGE

"Those who fear the United Nations as an international government need have no fear. It is definitely not a world government, and I don't think any of us will live long enough to see any change in the U. N. toward world government. The walls of nationalism are high and if anything the disposition is to raise those walls, rather than lower them."

"The United Nations is a method of reaching international agreement."

REC BOARD TALKS ABOUT PARK LIGHTS

The Gettysburg Recreation Board Tuesday evening made preliminary steps toward replacement and improvement of the lights at the softball field in the Recreation Park.

Present lights were installed in 1948 and, according to reports at the Recreation Board meeting in the Junior High School building, are "about shot." The reports showed some reflectors have rusted. Over the years some persons have used the lights for target practice with rifles, and age has caused deterioration. Some of the lights are already inoperative and it is believed others will become so over the next several years.

TO GET ESTIMATES

The "perfect system" was described as "too expensive" during the discussion, but the board seemed to look favorably on eventually installing a system that would double the present lighting. Discussed was the possibility of replacing lights over the next several years, improving wiring during the same period and eventually achieving an improvement in the lighting without a great outlay at one time. The first requirement in improving the lighting, the board was told, is an increase in the transformer capacity, either by purchasing another one exactly like the

Accepts Position In Nation's Capital

Miss Patricia A. Weaver, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. William G. Weaver, 225 S. Howard Ave., has accepted a position with the Department of the Interior in the Bureau of Mines. Her assignment is in the editorial section. She began her duties today.

Miss Weaver is a graduate of Gettysburg High School as a member of the class of 1960, and from Gettysburg College in 1964. At the latter institution she majored in English with special work in journalism and creative writing.

In Washington she will reside at Michelle Towers, 2116 F St., N.W.

In a two-hour session Monday evening at the office of the county superintendent of schools, members of the Adams County School Board adopted unanimously their proposal to the state Board of Education in its consideration of the Adams County school reorganization plan on which appeal hearings are to be held in Harrisburg November 4.

On a unanimous roll call vote, the board expressed a willingness to accept Hanover borough as part of the Adams County plan but went on record as being unwilling to release Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown borough to York County for school purposes.

The action was one of six possible actions submitted to the five county board members for consideration Monday evening.

MANY PROPOSALS

York County and Hanover are drawn into the Adams County school plan controversy by reason of the appeal from the county plan taken by Conewago Twp., which has asked permission to join with Hanover in a single school district. Because McSherrystown is surrounded by Conewago Twp., it is involved in the future of Conewago Twp. although it is appealing to the state board to be allowed to continue as an independent school district.

The Adams County plan, as adopted last May by the county board on a 3-2 vote, calls for combining the present school districts in the county into six administrative units at Gettysburg, Upper Adams, Fairfield, Littlestown, New Oxford and Bermudian Springs.

In addition to the appeals by McSherrystown and Conewago Twp., three districts, East Berlin, Mt. Pleasant and Straban, are asking that all of the county be combined into a single school district.

UP TO STATE BOARD

As he submitted alternative proposals to the county board Monday evening, County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson reminded the board it could not change the county plan as adopted in May but could only make recommendations to the state Board of Education where final decision on the county plan now rests. The county plan already has "automatic" approval from the State Council of Basic Education.

Other proposals before the board on which no action was taken included: Agreement to release Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown to York County to be incorporated into the York County School plan; agreement to retain Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown in the Adams County plan and disapprove the acceptance of Hanover borough school district into the Adams County plan; agreement to receive the Hanover borough school district into the Adams County plan to be incorporated with Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown as a "seventh unit" of the Adams County plan; agreement to accept any decision the state board will make with regard to Hanover, Conewago Twp., McSherrystown and the Adams County plan, and any other alternative that the county board might suggest.

MUCH AT STAKE

The York County School Board is involved in the negotiations over Hanover because an appeal has been taken from the York County plan by Hanover but the Adams County School Board Monday evening was told the York County board will not meet until the last week in October to make its decision.

There was no sentiment expressed Monday evening in favor of releasing Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown borough to the York County plan. It was pointed

Charge Boy, 18, Stuffed Girl, 7, In Oil Furnace

NEW YORK (AP)—An 18-year-old boy was jailed today in the sex slaying of a 7-year-old girl, whose body was stuffed in an oil furnace in the basement of a church.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Kenneth N. Brown said the boy, John Ebbs of Brooklyn, grabbed Janet Young as she arrived at the Bethany Evangelical United Brethren Church in Queens to attend a Brownie Scout meeting Monday afternoon.

Brown said Ebbs, who sometimes did volunteer work around the church, dragged the child to the basement, tied her with a cord, strangled her and tried to rape her.

He was watching television in his home when police arrested him early today.

DROP CHARGE OF GAMBLING DURING TRIAL

A charge of establishing a gambling place brought against Jacob E. Myers, Gettysburg, was dismissed by the Adams County court this morning when the Commonwealth failed to prove that he had anything to do with the placing of a punch board in a drawer at a local club.

When police raided a number of clubs and other places in the county last spring, a punch board, unused, was found in a drawer at the Moose lodge here. Since Myers held the title of steward at the club, he was charged with having placed the board there. There was no evidence produced, however, that he had obtained the punch board, or that he had known of its presence or had placed it.

Trial immediately began on a charge of establishing a gambling place against Herbert R. Gsell, Fayetteville R. 2, who is alleged by the Commonwealth to have provided the gambling devices taken at the Amvets' home near Fairfield during the same raids.

JURY DRAWN

A jury was drawn this morning for the trial of Marion D. Wiles, Biglerville R. 1, and Chambersburg, on a charge of driving a motor vehicle during suspension.

Miss Wiles failed to appear for court when her case was called Monday. Monday night she was brought to the county jail by her bondsman to appear for trial today.

The jury hearing the Gsell case includes Marie M. Adam, East Berlin; Rhea Blocher, Aspers R. 1; Rose Marie Bunty, Hanover R. 4; George C. DeHoff, 440 S. Queen St., Littlestown; Yolanda C. Dick, York Springs R. 1; Lo-vena Funt, Biglerville R. 1; Anna McKendrick, Orrtanna R. 1; Francis E. Noble, Gettysburg R. 2; Bernard Sprankle, Fairfield R. 2; Mrs. Thomas Staub, McSherrytown; Lorene Warrenfeltz, Biglerville R. 1; Herbert Wirth, Gettysburg R. 6.

Members of the jury called for the Myers case included Rhea Blocher, Aspers R. 1; Rose Marie Bunty, Hanover R. 4; George C. DeHoff, Littlestown; Selon F. Dockey, New Oxford; Mrs. Maude King, York Springs R. 1; Anna McKendrick, Orrtanna R. 1; Roy F. Milhimes, 10 Seminary Ave.; Lawrence E. "He was my friend, truly a good citizen of great character."

Appeal Is Filed For James Tawney

Attorney Oscar F. Spicer Monday afternoon filed in the Adams County court an appeal for James E. Tawney, W. Middle St., from the verdict of the jury finding him guilty last Friday of receiving stolen goods, attempting to sell a vehicle with an altered manufacturers number and conspiracy.

The appeal followed the usual order of claiming the verdict is against the law, against the evidence and that the court erred in certain rulings during the trial and asking the right to submit additional reasons.

EX-TRUSTEE OF COLLEGE PASSES AWAY

Lester E. Gingerich, retired vice chairman of the Gettysburg College board of trustees and resident of Wynnewood, Pa., died Monday evening in Philadelphia. He had been in declining health in recent months.

A native of York, Gingerich was graduated from Gettysburg in 1922 with a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering and soon thereafter joined the Pennsylvania Railroad as a rodman at Jersey City, N. J. He was advanced to supervisor of track at several locations and in 1934 was placed in charge of the rehabilitation of the railroad's Baltimore tunnels during electrification of the eastern lines.

During his 42 years with the PRR, Gingerich served in various capacities related to engineering and maintenance of way in terminal divisions as far west as St. Louis and Chicago. Following several years as chief engineer maintenance of way for the Delmarva and Central Divisions, Gingerich was promoted in 1957 to chief mechanical officer, in which capacity he served until his retirement in February, 1961.

out that such action would deprive this county of "a tenth of its total property assessed valuation."

It was pointed out, too, that if York County should agree to give up Hanover to Adams County, York County would be losing much less proportionately than would Adams County if it gave up Conewago Twp., and McSherrytown.

CONFER WITH HARTMAN

Another proposal, made during the evening, that got little backing was a suggestion that Adams County accept Hanover to be joined with Conewago and McSherrytown in a single school district while all the rest of Adams County would become a single district.

The "seventh unit" plan contained in one of the alternate proposals before the Adams County board was opposed by members who said they favor a single administrative unit and the "seventh unit" plan is built upon the six-unit plan now contained in the county plan that is being appealed.

The board members Monday evening discussed with the board's attorney, Eugene R. Hartman, plans for the Harrisburg hearing November 4 when he will appear in support of the six-unit plan which the board adopted in May.

PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Much of the remainder of the evening was spent on plans for the county school directors' convention to be held November 12 at the Biglerville High School at an initial session at 5 p.m., a dinner session and an evening meeting with adjournment set for 9:30 p.m.

Speakers will include Lloyd Kaiser, general manager of the Educational TV station at Hershey, and Robert T. Stoner, a member of the Cumberland County Board of School Directors, who will discuss "The Area Technical High School."

The county board was notified that a cost analysis survey for the proposed area technical high school for this county will be ready for distribution November 12 at the county convention.

NAME COMMITTEE

The board gave approval to transportation contract changes in Franklin Twp. and the Bermdian Springs Joint School system and approved annual financial and auditors' reports from nine county school districts.

The directors also approved a rental agreement, authorized a month ago, by which the county school office will make use of a second floor apartment at its Carlisle St. office to provide more office space for the presently crowded staff. The small apartment is being rented from Russell Durbin for $50 per month. The new space will be used for office and diagnostic rooms for the special education services.

These committees were chosen for the November convention: Resolutions, John Budd, New Oxford; Oren H. Wilson, Gettysburg; Paul Pitzer, Upper Adams; Ralph Tyson, Bermdian Springs; Charles W. Weikert, Littlestown; Robert Baumgardner, Fairfield; and Lloyd W. Deamer, Conewago Twp.; nominating, J. Faber Wildasin, New Oxford; Thomas O. Oyler, Franklin Twp.; Mrs. Hazel Hoffman, East Berlin; R. Thomas Dolly, Fairfield; Bernard Hess, Germany Twp., designated as chairman, and Dr. W. North Sterrett, Upper Adams, and tickets, Richard C. Lightner, Dale Ecker and Fred Hartlaub.

ANNOUNCES MEETING

Assistant County Superintendent of Schools George B. Inskip announced that county school administrators will meet today at the county office to hear Melvin Gardner, a field representative for the Department of Labor and Industry, discuss the recently passed Economic Opportunity Act.

President Dean Asquith presided at the meeting with Glenn M. Haar, Clark H. Wildasin, Fred H. Hartlaub and Hugh C. McIlhenny in attendance.

As a 3-year-old last year, South African-raised Colorado King won six of his eight starts.

Major Modern Problems Are Being Considered By 2nd Vatican Council

By GERALD MILLER
VATICAN CITY (AP) — A long-awaited document bringing the Roman Catholic Church face to face with such major modern problems as birth control, racial discrimination and war and peace was introduced today at the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The document won immediate support from seven prominent cardinals from three continents.

Only a single prelate—an Italian cardinal—rose in St. Peter's Basilica to assail the schema on the church in the modern world.

FACE BIG ISSUES
But the demand by Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini of Palermo, Sicily, for a full rewriting, was all but drowned out by appeals by other council fathers that their church come to grips with such matters as birth control, disarmament, racial discrimination, white slavery and economic strife.

Never before in the 2,000-year history of the church has a general council taken on such everyday problems.

The study being undertaken by the 2,500 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica is one of the most sweeping ever to be considered by an ecumenical council in the church's 2,000-year history.

JOYS AND GRIEFS
The opening lines of the schema on the modern world struck the keynote of the document.

They said: "The joys and the griefs, and the hopes and the anxieties of modern man, especially of the poor and the afflicted, are no less the anxieties and the hopes, the griefs and the joys of this council."

Some council officials warned against expecting too much from the long-awaited document. They said there is much it does not do. Others termed the document a brilliant example of the church's ability to think and speak in fresh, modern terms of significance to men everywhere.

DIRECT APPEAL
The schema is a direct appeal to the world's half billion Catholics to work for brotherhood with all men. It calls on Catholics to take a continuously active part in the formation of public opinion, in science and culture, in programs to improve community life, and in movements aimed at ending racial, social and economic discriminations.

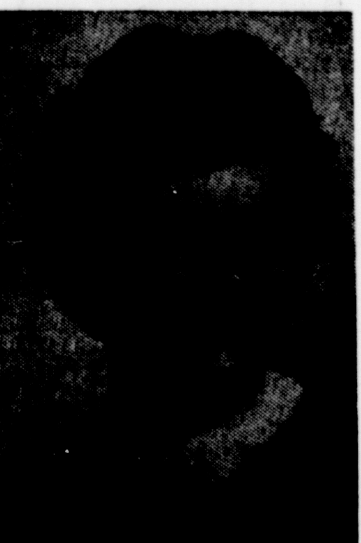

The schema acknowledges the growing pressure of questions in the minds of many Roman Catholics about birth control. While it proposes no drastic turnabouts in church bans on contraception, it holds out the prospect that changes may be in the offing.

It urges doctors, sociologists, scientists and married people to collaborate with theologians in exploring the issue. It says that out of such study solutions "can still be hoped for."

The schema also calls for religious liberty for everyone to enjoy freedom of conscience.

WELL KNOWN IN U.S.

An active member of the Methodist Church, Dr. Asirvatham has been active in Indian Christian affairs on a national level. For four successive years he has been elected president of the All-India Conference of Indian Christians, was chairman of the Jabalpur Christian Welfare Association, has been for some time a member of the executive committee of the National Christian Council in India, and is involved in other Christian enterprises.

Dr. Asirvatham was on the faculty of Boston University from 1945 to 1952, delivered a Christmas message to a large gathering at the Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C., in 1950, and substituted several times as a public speaker for a former Indian ambassador to this country. His wife and two of his three daughters are graduates of United States colleges and universities and about 30 members of his family circle were educated in this country and subsequently returned to India to hold responsible positions in the educational and public life of the country. In the last 10 years, Dr. Asirvatham has returned to the United States four times to lecture.

He will present two lectures here entitled "The Future of Christianity in India" at 10 a.m. and "India and the World Scene" at 2 p.m. A discussion period will follow the 2 p.m. lecture.

SEEKS BARRY VOTES IN WEST
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has called on California voters to cast their ballot for Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

An aide Monday night said Eisenhower wrote a letter stating his support for a firm foreign policy, powerful military defense, free economy and preservation of moral and spiritual heritage.

The letter, according to the aide, also stated that Goldwater shared Eisenhower's views.

"I hope you will join me in voting for him for president," the letter from Eisenhower concluded.

The letter, dated Oct. 14 (Eisenhower's 74th birthday) was sent to the Riverside, Calif., Republican Organization for distribution throughout the state, the aide said.

York Springs PTA To Meet Tonight
The York Springs Elementary PTA will hold an open house at the school tonight. Teachers will be in their rooms at 7:30 o'clock to meet parents and discuss objectives for the year.

The PTA meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the all-purpose room. President Frank Myers will preside at the business meeting. The program will be presented by Bruce Wiser, principal. He and members of the teaching staff will discuss "Why New Math?"

He is a Senior majoring in political science and is a graduate of Gettysburg High School. Upon graduation from college he will be eligible for appointment as a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

INVOLVED IN DAMAGE SUITS

John W. Salin, Seymour R. 2, Conn., was named defendant in a damage suit filed in Carlisle in which damages in "excess of $10,000" are asked in five actions filed by three persons as the result of an automobile accident in Carlisle on Nov. 14, 1963.

In the first count, Hazel M. Heberlig, Gardner's R. 2, sets forth she was a passenger in an automobile owned by Lawrence R. Heberlig, and driven by Alta Heberlig, 18, a minor.

According to the complaint, Salin was operating his car eastwardly on High St., approaching Bedford, and the defendant, according to the complaint, failed to observe the other car and failed to obey a red traffic signal at the intersection.

SEEK LOST EARNINGS

Hazel M. Heberlig, in one action of the suit, seeks to recover damages in earning power for the future, having been employed by numerous firms in Carlisle and Mt. Holly Springs.

In a second count in the action, the 18-year-old minor, Alta Heberlig, by her guardian, Lawrence R. Heberlig, seeks to recover damages for "pain and suffering" as the result of injuries received in the accident.

Lawrence R. Heberlig, also of Gardner's R. 2, in another count in the suit, seeks to recover $368 for medical and hospital expenses for his wife, Hazel M. Heberlig.

The father, as the result of injuries to his daughter, Alta, seeks to recover $27.50 in medical and hospital expenses, and in a fifth action, asks for $181 for damages to the Heberlig automobile.

mission studying executive branch operations, and carried on various other tasks.

One of his last excursions out of his apartment was in May, 1963, when he spurned his doctor's advice against it, and spoke at a reception honoring astronaut Maj. Gordon Cooper Jr.

KEEP NATION FREE
At the 1956 convention in San Francisco, Hoover urged the GOP to set forth a new "declaration of principles of American life" and keep the nation free and strong.

At Chicago four years later, he told the convention that the country was in a "frightening moral slump" and warned that Communist influence had undercut America's sense of pride and honor.

Hoover called for a "rebirth of a great spiritual force which has been impaired by cynicism and weakened by foreign infections."

As he had on two previous occasions, the ex-president said that was his final appearance at conventions.

READ '64 MESSAGE
Weakened by illness and old age, he sent a message to the 1964 Republican National Convention which was read by U.S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. In it, Hoover said "at recent conventions I have given you assurance that this is my last appearance. But this is really it."

On Aug. 10, 1962, Hoover participated in the dedication of the Hoover Library in his home village of West Branch, Iowa.

Though the ceremonies were generally light, and warmly personal, the former president took the occasion to make a solemn plea for the creation of a "council of free nations."

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Eighteen days later he underwent surgery for removal of a growth in the intestinal tract.

Following the operation, those who saw him at public appearances said he appeared thin and drawn. The operation was performed in Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, the same hospital in which he had his gall bladder removed in 1958.

Hoover attended a New York City luncheon in honor of astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. on May 22, 1963. It was understood that doctors at the time advised him against attending, but he appeared anyway.

The late President John F. Kennedy paid him a brief courtesy call in his Waldorf Towers suite the next day. Kennedy was in Manhattan on business.

SERIOUSLY ILL
On June 14, less than a month later — a family spokesman issued a statement saying the former president had been seriously ill for a week with a gastrointestinal ailment. The spokesman said Hoover was suffering with anemia "secondary to bleeding from the gastrointestinal tract."

He suffered another attack of hemorrhaging and a pulmonary infection in February this year. From then on he was under constant care of nurses.

Nevertheless, on his 90th birthday he issued a statement and entertained some close friends at dinner.

MAKES PREDICTIONS
In his birthday message he predicted the United States would grow in freedom and

3 Countians At C-P Conference

Three Adams Countians attended the 13th annual conference of United Cerebral Palsy of Pennsylvania on Friday and Saturday at the Penn-Harris Motor Inn in Camp Hill.

The group included Mrs. David Deitch, chairman of the Adams County C-P Committee; Mrs. Robert Knouse, treasurer, and Mrs. Louise Hoffman, who drives the county cerebral palsied children to classes here. The theme of the conference was "Cooperative Community Planning for the Palsied" and the keynote address was given by Dr. Ray Barsch, director of Institute of Learning Disorders from the University of Wisconsin.

those walking on the left side of the road. Miss Drago said Miss Donnelly made an uncompromising remark.

Later the three said Miss Donnelly again came up behind them in her car and swerved toward them.

Finally on Diller Rd. where they were walking on the highway at a spot where there are no sidewalks, the three claimed Miss Donnelly came up from behind them and, swerving to their side of the road, would have struck them had they not gotten out of the way.

George W. Beamer, New Oxford R. 2, was foreman for the jury which also included Yolanda C. Dick, York Springs R. 1; Mrs. Glenn W. Hartman, Biglerville R. 1; Chester Ogden, Bendersville; Bernard Sprankle, Fairfield R. 2; Ralph Sterner, Gardner's R. 2; Gary Wagner, Biglerville; Mrs. Joyce Walter, Gettysburg R. 6; Lorene Warrenfeltz, Biglerville R. 1; Herbert Wirth, Gettysburg R. 6; Mrs. Freda K. Wolf, 143 Chambersburg St., and Larry Wrights, East Berlin.

AUTOS COLLIDE
A compact auto driven by James Williams, 29, Hanover, and a car operated by Mrs. Gloria L. Gebhart, 21, New Oxford R. 1, collided at 12:39 a.m. Saturday. Hanover police reported. The Gebhart vehicle attempted to make a left turn onto Elm Ave., when the mishap occurred, police said. Mrs. Gebhart told police she suffered momentarily pain in one of her arms but refused medical attention. Damage was $150 to each vehicle. A speed marker sign, owned by the borough, was spun around in semicircle by the Gebhart car, police said.

FRACTURES HIP
John Reinecker, 2 Liberty St., was found this morning at 3:45 o'clock by borough police on the sidewalk at the Adams County Motors garage on Liberty St. Reinecker, who has an artificial leg, had fallen when he got out of his car and started toward the stairway to his apartment above the garage. He suffered a broken hip in the fall. The officers secured the local firemen's ambulance to remove him to the hospital.

prosperity and asserted the "superabundance" of American life overshadowed the nation's difficulties.

In this connection, he said: "Deeply as I feel the lag in certain areas which denies equal chance to our Negro population, I cannot refrain from saying that our 19 million Negroes probably own more automobiles than all the 220 million Russians and the 200 million African Negroes put together."

Last Dec. 8, President Johnson called on Hoover for 10 minutes. Johnson said he wanted to thank Hoover for a note the former president wrote Johnson after he assumed the presidency.

2 LOCAL GIRLS HURT IN CRASH

Four persons who told police they had just left a tavern were hurt early Saturday when their car smashed into two parked vehicles in Chambersburg.

The driver, Fred Shaffer, 22, Chambersburg, operating on a learner's permit will be charged with reckless driving.

Police said it was raining lightly at the time and the street was wet when Shaffer hit the parked cars of Floyd Sollenberger and Franklin D. Annis, both of Chambersburg.

All three cars were demolished. Shaffer leaped out after the crash and ran. He was later found and taken to the Chambersburg Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Miss Shirley A. Luckett, Gettysburg R. 3, owner of the car, was pinned in the front seat. She was later admitted to the hospital.

Also treated and later released were a couple in the back seat, Benjamin Pensinger, 21, Chambersburg, and Catherine L. Wantz, 21, Gettysburg.

Dismiss Car Theft Charges Against 2

A York County jury Monday found two York men not guilty of charges of being an accessory after the fact in the theft of the car of a Gettysburg area woman May 24.

The two were Richard H. Baker, 22, and Dennis R. Schaller, 20, of York.

The prosecution dropped charges of larceny and accessory before the fact after a third defendant, Timothy E. Knaub, York, pleaded guilty to larceny of the car.

The owner of the car was Mrs. Doris A. Busbey, Gettysburg R. 5. Her husband said the car was taken after he had parked it in York May 23.

Patrolman John H. Lehman, Spring Garden Township police, said he questioned the two defendants and Knaub who were in the car in the driveway of York Suburban High School early in the morning of the day after the car was missing.

Knaub testified that he had first told the defendants that the car was stolen but later that it belonged to his sister.

and one home was approved. At present there are 23 approved foster homes, Miss Curtis reported, with 20 in use. She said that the eight not currently in use are not immediately available for foster home placements, in some instances temporary circumstances prohibiting their immediate use.

Five adoption applications are pending.

Luther Ritter reported on the budget and Dr. Vernard Group reported as chairman of the annual program committee, listing suggested ideas for goals to be achieved by the board during the year.

Rev. John Bishop, president of the advisory board presided at the meeting. Miss Beatrice Robinson, field representative for the state Department of Public Welfare, office of children and youth, expressed her appreciation to the board and held that child welfare "depends on three branches, the advisory board, the county commissioners and the office staff to provide the care that these children need."

Eisenhower

"I wouldn't think that would be. You see, the reason is that they must have engineered a coup d'etat on awfully short notice, in a rapid time. Knowing well of the development, this might have happened by coincidence right at the same time."

NO CLOSE CONNECTION
"But I don't think this particular explosion and this other thing were very closely connected."

Eisenhower indicated that he has been examining a number of possible factors in Khrushchev's expulsion and said:

"I know that he expected to stay. He constantly told me he would be there much longer after I was gone, and I would say, 'Yes, that is true.'"

"There has to be some reason for throwing the man out. If we can determine the correct reason, then we would know how to cut our own cloth."

He said he does not believe the Kremlin wants a nuclear war.

SEES NO WAR
"At the time they were building the H-bomb, which I believe was a result of espionage, they also were building great public works that could be destroyed by one bomb. So I have the conviction that they would not start a nuclear war. I don't believe they will start one even if we have serious difficulties with them," Eisenhower said.

Musingly, and with a faint smile, Eisenhower said: "I would like to talk to Khrushchev now. I believe if he could get out of Russia, with his family, he would like to."

Eisenhower said he would like to talk over with the ex-premier some of the events that had arisen in the past — and once brought the two men into a violent confrontation.

That developed in Paris, May 18, 1960, when Khrushchev torpedoed the proposed summit conference. He took the action after Francis Gary Powers, flying a U2 reconnaissance plane, was shot down over Soviet soil and the United States denied he was on a spy flight.

Khrushchev, at a massive, 2,000-man news conference, referred to Eisenhower as "my fishy friend," and likened the president to a thief. He also withdrew an invitation to Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union. Eisenhower at that time referred to the "violence and inaccuracy of Khrushchev's outburst."

But Eisenhower said in the interview:

"You know, he had streaks of frankness with me. He told me things and I asked the CIA to check on them and it turned out to be correct."

CAR IS DAMAGED
The automobile of Carroll E. Foreman, Taneytown, was damaged Saturday morning at 12:30 o'clock to the extent of $100, when it was struck in the rear by a tractor-trailer. The accident occurred at the alley between the G. C. Murphy and Zerfing stores. Police said Foreman was attempting to make a right turn into the alley when his vehicle was struck by a southbound tractor-trailer operator.

The next meeting on November 15 will be the annual birthday party. There will be a table for each month of the year. It was decided that sandwiches, chips, cake, mints, nuts or fudge, coffee or tea will be served. A donation of 50 cents will be asked of each lady who attends. This meeting will be in charge of the spiritual development chairman, Mrs. Helen Overbaugh and Mrs. John Hemler, and the Civil Defense committee, Mrs. Maurice Sterner and Mrs. William Long.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Chestnut Crop Above Normal: Adams county will have a crop of uncultivated chestnuts this year that will probably exceed the yields of most seasons. Residents of the lower end of the county gather their supply from the Pigeon Hills. The trees in that section are said to be bearing more abundantly this year than those on the mountains. The worms have gotten into the nuts on the mountain to such an extent that in some places it has affected the harvest for commercial purposes.

Cannot Compare With Gettysburg: "If the percentage of loss sustained by General Meade at Gettysburg were now being suffered by the Germans in Europe it would require only a little over four days to wipe the entire German Army from the face of the earth," said Colonel A. Embick, of Carlisle, this morning in addressing the twelfth annual reunion of the Southern District Association of the Grand Army, in session in the Skelly Post Room. "In the three days at Gettysburg the Union Army lost 22 1/2 per cent of its men. In the greatest battle of the present European war the Germans lost only 9 per cent in a seventeen days' fight. In one day's engagement during the Civil War General McClellan lost one-fourth of his entire army."

Battlefield Work: The erection of three new monuments and the replacing of the damaged statues which were mutilated by a vandal on March 4, 1913, will mark the closing weeks of the year in the National Park. The new memorials are those to General Humphreys, near the Rogers House, to General Hays at Ziegler's Grove; and to General Geary, on the east side of Culp's Hill. Charles Kappes has the contract for their erection and has started work on the foundations. The Geary monument will be erected on a natural boulder. They are to cost about $5,000 each and will be heroic statues. Mr. Kappes will also have charge of the monuments which will take the place of those damaged last year.

Principals Named: The following have been announced as the principals in the home talent musical show "Fi Fi of the Toy Shop" to be given in Walters' Theater on November 6: Miss Lillian Ring, who will have the lead; Genevieve Power, Lucille Bender, Lillian Kitzmiller, Miss Amy Swope, Miss Mary Kohler, Helen Pfeiffer, Miss Nellie Warner, Stanley Wary, Donald Wacker, Thomas Nixon, Jacob Rudisill, Gilbert Becker, Lawrence Sheeds, William Duncan and William Troxell. There will be about one hundred in the show. Miss Minnie Lohr will be the pianist.

No Plans Made for Halloween: The annual Halloween mums' parade, which for the past two years has been a delightful fall diversion for the big festive night, is likely to be abandoned this year for want of someone who will assume the financial responsibility of conducting it. In other years, Allen B. Plank had entire charge of the affair but it proved an expensive proposition, on account of lack of support from other sources, the parade last year costing Mr. Plank exactly $33 of his own money.

Mining Rock For Roofing Materials: A new industry on the mountain in the western part of the county is growing to large dimensions. Some time ago it was

Today's Talk

THINGS AND HUMAN SOULS

Well may we fear for the salvation of all humanity. We have become worships of gadgets — things that have given us leisure and boast, but which have lessened our regard and respect for the eternal values.

Henri Frederic Amiel, in his interesting journal, written nearly one hundred years ago said: "The useful will take the place of the beautiful, industry of art, political economy of religion, and arithmetic of poetry." What a piece of prophecy!

Money, place and position are placed above beauty, art, religion and genuine literature. We have so much that we appreciate too little. Here is another line from Amiel: "Is this indeed the fate reserved for the democratic era?" One wonders — is it? The greatest kingdom in all this world is the kingdom of the mind. There is no beauty to be compared to the beauty of character, and no art so eternal as the art of the heart. Never has it been so imperative that nations and individuals should turn to religion, and give hope and comfort to the human soul.

No matter how powerful our United Nations organization may eventually become, if each member nation is not back-grounded by a religious reverence, and a regard for the souls of the peoples of this earth, there can be but small hope for the permanence of either. Souls must have the preference over things.

This Western world's earliest history is one in which great fighters for freedom and tolerance were created — men like Roger Williams, for example. The impress that they left will forever remain. They were not troubled over things, for they had so few, but they were mightily concerned about the souls of people, and about the principles on which this new world should be built. Great nations of the past have crumbled because of spiritual poverty. We have so many things that they confuse us. Wealth and splendor are in simple fellow-folk feeling, implanted by God alone in the human heart.

SUMMER SIGHTS

Now that the summer is ended and back in the city we stay, I suppose the dear darlings of fifty have put all their play suits away.

I presume now they've done with the beaches and porches and golf links and courts. The fat boys of fifty and over forget how they looked in their shorts.

Now that the summer is over, those hairy old fellows and stout no longer in coatless pajamas go gleefully strutting about. Now shirted and coated and trousered, they're back at the counter or bar.

No longer attempting to show us what wonderful creatures they are.

Yet some winter night I am certain I'll sit by the fire and recall

That bulky old fool of the summer whose shorts were a trifle too small.

And that weather-worn woman of forty-I know I shall laugh in my beard—

As I think in her play suit of childhood, how cute the old larling appeared!

discovered by Charles and Clarence Wills, of Gladhill siding, that the rock that had been taken out of the hill for a Western Maryland Railroad "cut" and piled on a dump, was of peculiar hardness. They made experiments with it and found that this rock crushed into small particles was gritty and sharp and almost indestructible. It was green in color. They interested the Advance Industrial Supply Company, Chicago, in it with the result that the latter leased part of the Wills farm at Gladhill, erected machinery there and began crushing the rock taken from the dump. This product is used principally on felt shingles, which are dipped in hot asphalt, then powdered thickly with the crushed stone and then passed through a roller to force the stone firmly into the felt and asphalt. It is used for other roofing and similar purposes and apparently has found favor with architects and contractors, for the company has leased a new section, alongside a cut, which Clarence Wills has been awarded the contract to blast out.

To Build House: At the evening service of St. Francis Xavier congregation Sunday it was decided to build a new home for the Sisters of Charity on the vacant lot to the west of Xavier Hall. It will cost about $5,000 and as a beginning for the fund a large bazaar will be held Thanksgiving week. The house now occupied by the Sisters is the property of Mrs. Mary Frommeyer, of Baltimore, who expects to dispose of it.

Robbery Convict Offers His Kidney

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A robber whose father died of kidney cancer is undergoing hospital tests to see if he is healthy enough to donate a kidney to save a man's life. Gary Goldberg, 26, was sentenced to five years in prison Friday after he admitted taking part in a $19,000 bakery robbery. Goldberg offered to donate a kidney to the father of five children who is being kept alive by an artificial kidney machine.

Mayor Stites Gives Warning

Mayor Earl L. Stites has issued a statement relative to complaints already received about Halloween pranks and warned that anyone who is caught doing damage to property or performing any other so-called pranks, which are unlawful, especially the soaping of motor vehicle windows and windshields, which is in violation of the motor vehicle code, shall be prosecuted. The mayor expects children to have fun during the Halloween period, but requests that parents cooperate and prohibit their children from indulging in "unnecessary destruction" of property and specially requests that "trick or treats" be limited to October 28 through 31.

BUFFALO TOPS LEAGUE TEAMS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Buffalo Bills, who sport professional football's only perfect record, showed why in American Football League statistics released today.

The Bills, who have won six straight games, top the AFL in six of the eight team statistical categories. The New York Jets, who boast the AFL's top rusher in rookie Matt Snell, lead the other two team categories.

Buffalo leads the total offense with 2,382 yards gained. Broken down the yardage comes to 1,526 through the air and 856 on the ground. Both figures are tops in their respective divisions as well. The Bills, with Daryle Lamontica and Jackie Kemp doing the passing, have averaged 234 yards a game with 83 completions in 168 attempts. Cookie Gilchrist paces the running

LADY IN THE DARK. The frug, the hully, gully, the chicken and the fish have brought about a new way of dressing after dark. It all started in those record-spinning night clubs of Paris, the discotheques.

Whether you go in for the frug or prefer to tread a more stately measure, you will find discotheque fashions in the swing of most any evening out. The look is a glamorous combination of black and glitter.

As you might guess, it begins with the shoe—a bare, shell of a black shoe ablaze with brilliant or a jeweled buckle. The stockings are black and lacy. The dress is low at the neck, short and flared at the hem, black as night.

The rest is pure glimmer, the better to light your face across a dim and crowded room. There's the glimmer of metallic or velvet half-caps with a flirtatious jewel or feather that lies smack on the cheek. And there's the sparkle of beaded baby bonnets with a deceptively innocent chin tie.

The lighting effect is further heightened by luminescent makeup. This involves a gauzy veil of pale foundation, powder and rouge. Then the fireworks of smoky eyeshadow fleeced with silver or gold, of a thick fringe of lashes, and of a glimmered lipstick.

Never fear, the glow is subtle — just enough to illumine a lady in the dark.

JAYCEES JOIN CYF PROGRAM

A program designed to bring about a better understanding of the problems and achievements of the farmers in the Littlestown area was announced today by the Jaycees.

The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce has conducted the national outstanding young farmer program for the last nine years. This is the first year that the Littlestown Jaycee Chapter has participated.

Under the direction of OYF Chairman John Shomper, the Littlestown Jaycees will interview farmers between the ages of 21 and 35. The reports and interviews will be given to a special judging committee which will select Littlestown's outstanding young farmers for 1964-65. The judging is on the basis of career progress, conservation practices and community service.

Any farmer between the ages of 21 and 35 desiring to enter the contest should contact Chairman John Shomper. The only requirements are that the farmer be between the ages of 21 and 35 and the farmer must be the farm operator, deriving a minimum of two-thirds of his income from farming.

Local winners will be eligible to compete in the state final at Camp Hill in February and the state winners progress to the national awards program to be held in Fort Collins, Colo., April 11-13.

Senior Ladies To Be NCCW Guests

The senior ladies of St. Aloysius Church are specially invited to attend the October meeting of the Parish Council of Catholic Women on Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in the parish hall. A white elephant party will be featured during the social hour. Each person is asked to take a wrapped package worth at least a quarter. The hostesses committee includes: Mrs. Clyde H. Rohrbach, chairman; Mrs. Paul Anzenberger, Mrs. Donald Bowers, Mrs. George Peart, Mrs. Pauline Wisotzky, Mrs. Joseph Cratin, Mrs. Pius V. Pautenik, Mrs. Marie Rexroth, Mrs. Irvin Crabb, Mrs. Emma Stuller, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Agnes Richards, Mrs. Donald W. Feesser, Mrs. Francis Kuhns and Mrs. P. Kemp Hymiller.

At the Sunday Masses in St. Aloysius Church, the annual mission offering was received. Banns of matrimony were published for the third time between John R. Rudisill Jr., of the parish, and Miss Sylvia M. Weaver, of St. Joseph's Parish, Bonneville. The Rev. Dr. John E. Metz, pastor, announced that persons having articles to donate for the annual Delone Catholic High School rummage sale should contact Mrs. Stewart N. Long or Mrs. Clyde Rohrbach as soon as possible.

Holy Mass will be celebrated on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8:15 a.m. in the church; Saturday Mass at 7:30 a.m. in the church. Holy Communion will be administered outside of Mass each weekday at 7:15 a.m. Sunday will be the Feast of Christ the King. There will be all day adoration of Christ in the Blessed Sacrament exposed on the altar from after the High Mass at 10 a.m. until evening devotions beginning at 7 p.m.

Associated Press Sports Writer TOKYO (AP)—"And who do you think you are, buster," asked the irate letter. "Marlon Brando?"

Well, it's true that we are often mistaken for each other, but Marlon's not here at the Tokyo Olympics so there's no problem along those lines.

The letter, of course, came from a mother.

She was so mad she put 80 cents worth of stamps on it.

RAVISHING BEAUTIES

It seems that a story written from here in jest had commented on the fact that some of the Olympic ladies who pitch the discus and paddle their own canoes have never been tabbed for the Miss Universe contest.

Loads of gold and all that. Good to their mothers, and always in bed by 11.

But ravishing beauties — uh.

At least all of them are not. If you've been paying attention during this carnival of fun and games, you undoubtedly will agree that that is a fair statement.

DAUGHTER AND POINT

But not Mrs. Kay Peterson of Hermosa Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Peterson has both a daughter in the Olympics, and a point.

"Go over to the Olympic Village and look at my daughter, the volleyball player," ordered Mrs. Peterson, and soon we were face to face with this blonde doll with a great shape, name of Sharon Peterson.

"My mother told me about you," said Sharon. "What do you mean by insulting lady volleyball players?"

"Honey," was the reply, "I didn't insult any lady volleyball players. Gosh, I didn't know we had any lady volleyball players when I wrote that story."

SHARON IS 21
"Well, you do now," said Sharon.

"I know they have mothers, too."

It turns out Sharon is 21, a graduate of Long Beach State who is going on to be a teacher of physical education, took up volleyball three years ago, and

INVITE NUN TO SCHOOL MEETS

Sister Marie Therese Eberhart M.A., director of admissions at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, has been invited to represent the school at several career days planned by education groups to acquaint high school students with the programs of various colleges.

October 25-27, she will participate in the "College Days and Nights" of the third Catholic college information program of the diocese of Rockville Centre, Long Island, arranged by the Catholic college committee of the diocese and the Catholic college coordinating committee. Meetings will be held at Molloy Catholic College in Rockville Centre, Seton Hall High School in Patchogue, and Mercy High School in Riverhead, L. I.

She will also represent the school at "College Day" on November 8 at Catholic University, Washington, D. C., under the auspices of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae. "Career Day" at Seton High School, Baltimore, will be held on November 13 for Baltimore area students.

In addition on October 27-28, following the Long Island meetings, Sister Therese will attend the annual meetings of the College Scholarship Service and the College Entrance Examination Board being held at the Commodore Hotel in New York City.

is a member of the South Bay Triumphant.

The girls have worked hard, trained hard and are kept hustling by their coach, Ida Litschauer of Compton, Calif., but after they finish their Olympic schedule they hope to see a little of Japan and do some shopping.

So there, the Americans have a good-looking ladies volleyball team in the Olympics.

And Sharon is a doll, even when she's mad.

How is the team doing? I was afraid you'd ask.

They may be cute, but they've lost four straight, and have only one game to go.

Well, looks aren't everything — but with a record like that, they help.

HARRY, THE HAT, WILL MANAGE PIRATE CLUB

By TED MEIER

Harry (The Hat) Walker was named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates to succeed Danny Murtaugh.

And today Johnny Keane, who quit as manager of the Cardinals after winning the World Series, is expected to succeed Yogi Berra as manager of the New York Yankees.

Berra was fired after his one season as manager in which he led the Yankees to a fifth straight American League pennant.

RICKEY RESIGNS

Will the Milwaukee Braves move to Atlanta? The answer is expected to be forthcoming Wednesday in a meeting of the Milwaukee board of directors in Chicago. A news conference has been called for 11:30 a.m. EST, Wednesday.

The unexpected resignation of the 83-year-old Rickey left St. Louisans wondering what next? Bob Howsam, who was recommended by Rickey to succeed Bing Devine as general manager, announced Rickey's resignation and said nothing more. Neither did owner August Busch Jr. or Rickey himself.

Up in the air is who will be chosen to succeed Keane as manager.

German Wins Decathlon In Upset Triumph Over Russian In Olympics

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor
TOKYO (AP) — American marksman Lones Wigger won the United States' only medal — a gold — and Russia made up a little ground, but the two dominant nations yielded the Olympic spotlight Tuesday to a little known German's upset triumph in the demanding decathlon.

Willi Holdorf, 24-year-old physical education student, held off the challenge of Russian Rein Aun and the fast-closing rush of C.K. Yang, the world record-holder and favorite, to become the first German ever to win the event.

He scored a spectacular 7,887 points for the 10-event, two-day grind under a recently revised scoring table. Yang, the 1960 silver medalist from Nationalist China and UCLA, holds the listed record at 9,121 under the old scoring system, which translates to 8,087 under the new system.

AUN IS SECOND
Aun finished second and Hans-Joachim Walde, another German, third.

Paul Herman of Santa Barbara, Calif., was the top American, finishing fourth.

The victory by the sturdy 6-foot, 200-pounder broke America's 32-year domination of the event going back to the 1932 games. But it was not unexpected.

The U.S. entrants, Paul Herman of Santa Barbara, Calif.; Dick Emberger of Oceanside, Calif.; and Russ Hodge of Roscoe, N.Y., were in positions Nos. 6, 9 and 10th with 5,468, 5,336 and 5,163 points.

The United States has won the decathlon in every Olympics since 1932, but its relatively poor showing in these Games was anticipated.

72 U. S. MEDALS
But the surprising strength of the U.S. shooters was not. The victory by Wigger, a stocky U.S. Army first lieutenant from Carter, Mont., was the seventh medal picked up by the marksmen and boosted the U.S. medal collection past the 1960 total of 71.

The United States now has 72, including 32 gold. Russia picked up four medals in the early events Tuesday — two each in women's shot-put and light-weight judo — and now has 52 including 17 gold.

Wigger, a 5-foot-7, 180-pounder, fired a world record 1,164 on 120 shots in winning the small bore rifle, three position competition. He previously had taken a silver medal in small bore rifle, prone position.

STAR IN RELAYS
The United States also pushed its brilliant, heavily favored relay teams through heats to the Wednesday finals without major difficulty, though a poor baton relay jeopardized the men's 400-meter squad in its first heat.

Boy Hayes, the Florida A&M flash who won the gold medal in the 100-meter dash, had to make up two yards on the final leg in that one, did it easily, and later anchored the team to a time of 39.5 seconds in the semifinals, equalling the Olympic record.

The team was made up of Paul Drayton of Cleveland, Gerald Ashworth of Haverhill, Mass.; Dick Stebbins of Los Angeles and Hayes.

The men's 1,600 relay, composed of Henry Carr of Detroit, 200-meter gold medal winner; Mike Larrabee of Fillmore, Calif., the 400-meter winner; Ollan Cassell of Nutley, N.J., and Uli Williams of Compton, Calif., won its heat in 3:05.5.

PGA SECTION GOLF TOURNEY ON WEDNESDAY

The Philadelphia PGA Section senior, golf championships, will be held on the Gettysburg Country Club course Wednesday with tee-offs scheduled from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

The tournament was originally scheduled for the local course on October 2 and was called off due to a heavy rain.

Rod Mundy, pro at the local club and defending titlist, said today he expects all of the pros who signed up for the October 2 date to be present on Wednesday.

A total of about 27 pros from Philadelphia, Delaware, parts of New Jersey, and Central Pennsylvania will take part.

No admission will be charged for spectators.

Engle Pleased With PSU Effort

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa., (AP)—Coach Rip Engle says he was pleased with Penn State's showing last Saturday in a 21-14 losing effort against Syracuse, one of the nation's top ranked teams.

"I can't point to one boy who didn't give 100 per cent in that game," Engle said. Penn State's record now is 1-4.

Engle cancelled a formal practice drill Monday to give his boys a rest. Instead, he conducted a skull session Monday night.

Team physicians, meanwhile, rated sophomore linebacker John Rummels as a 50-50 prospect to play against West Virginia this weekend. Rummels hurt his knee against Syracuse, but X-rays showed no serious injury.

Kennel Club Show At York Sunday

The York Kennel Club will hold an AKC sanction "B-OB" match next Sunday in Memorial Stadium, York.

Obedience judging will start at 10:30 a.m. with confirmation judging at noon. Nonsporting and working breeds, other than collies and shepherds will be judged at 10:30 a.m.

Among the breed judges will be Mrs. E. Connor, Gettysburg R. 2.

Olympic Winner To Become Coach

TOKYO (AP) — Distance runner Bill Dellinger, who won a medal on his third try in the Olympics, announced Tuesday he would retire from active competition.

Now 30, Dellinger said he would become a coach at Thurston High School in Springfield, Ore., where he has been teaching.

Villanova Leads In Lambert Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Villanova, 34-0 winner over Delaware for its fifth straight victory last Saturday, has taken sole possession of the No. 2 spot in the Lambert Trophy Board voting for the East's top major football teams.

Syracuse, which beat Penn State 21-14 Saturday, received a unanimous vote as the No. 1 team in the weekly ratings. Penn State was third.

Others in the top 10 are Pittsburgh, Boston College, Princeton, Army, Navy, Yale and Rutgers.

"THE COMET" WINS CANADA BLUE RIBBON

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — "The Comet" lived up to his name and the Canadians had their "day" at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show.

Eighteen-year-old Jimmy Day, riding a brown gelding named "The Comet," brought Canada its first blue ribbon Monday night and put his homeland into the unofficial team lead in international jumping competition.

"The Comet" virtually soared over the rugged, serpentine obstacle course in a blistering 26.5 seconds to capture the Pennsylvania 28th Infantry Division Trophy.

Four-tenths of a second behind was Mexico's Rafael Jimenez and "Gaylord."

Day, a freshman majoring in architecture at the University of Toronto, also took over the individual leadership in the eight-day show with 20 points.

Placing 3rd in the event was teammate Jim Elder on "Beef-eater." Another Canadian, Gail Ross, also turned in a flawless ride, but had to settle for 5th place because of time.

LEADING U. S.
The 1-3 finish gave the Canadians 24 points in the unofficial team standings, 12 points above the U. S. Mexico was 3rd with 10, followed by Argentina and Brazil, both scoreless.

Bill Robertson, former Golden Gloves boxer from Darien, Conn., won 4th place honors on "The Sheriff" to save the U. S. from a shutout.

Brazil made its first appearance of the show, after its four horses were brought to the U. S. by emergency airlift. The debut was disappointing, however, as Dr. Gianni Samaja and "Mr. Jim" suffered eight faults in the first round.

BOLT SCRUBS TOP BUCHANAN

The Littlestown High School junior varsity football team snapped a three-game losing streak while winning its first game 32-0 over James Buchanan Monday evening under the lights at Littlestown.

Jim Worley ran 15 yards for a touchdown in the first period. The Bolts added two more in the second quarter, Bernie Noble scampering 25 yards while Ed Good, guard, recovered a blocked punt in the end zone. Following the second touchdown Jim Redding kicked the point to give Littlestown a 19-0 lead at half time.

After a scoreless third period, the Bolts chalked up two more touchdowns in the final frame. Mike Selby went over from the six-yard stripe and Redding ran for the point. A 40-yard pass, Tom Fox to Carl Gentzler, accounted for the last six-pointer.

Next Monday afternoon Littlestown will be host to Kennard-Dale.

Score by periods:
James Buchanan 0 0 0 0-0

BUCKEYES IN TOP SPOT IN AP GRID POLL

By DICK COUCH

Baseball managers aren't the only ones riding an un-merry go-round this fall. The nation's college football powers have been playing musical chairs since the season's opening whistle, with Ohio State the latest to claim a precarious perch atop the shambles.

Ohio State's fourth straight victory, a 17-0 shutout of Southern California, coupled with Arkansas' 14-13 upset of top-ranked Texas pushed the Buckeyes into first place in The Associated Press weekly poll today and dropped the Longhorns to sixth.

The Buckeyes, No. 2 a week ago, drew 35 of 44 first-place votes in the balloting of writers and broadcasters for a commanding lead over fast-rising Notre Dame. Ohio State netted 447 points to 380 for the runner-up Irish. Third-ranked Alabama received five first-place votes, Notre Dame and fourth-ranked Arkansas, two each.

TWO ARE UNBEATEN
The Irish made it four in a row by blanking UCLA 24-0 and Alabama trimmed Tennessee 19-8 for victory No. 5.

Of the top ten teams in the AP's pre-season poll, only four — Ohio State, Alabama, Texas and Syracuse — remain on the select list and only the Buckeyes and Crimson Tide still are unbeaten.

Mississippi, No. 1 in the original balloting, has slipped from contention along with Oklahoma, Illinois, Auburn, Navy and Washington.

Texas, its unbeaten string snapped at 15 games by the rugged Razorbacks, fell a notch behind fifth-ranked Nebraska, which walloped Kansas State 47-0.

Louisiana State, Syracuse, Florida and Florida State complete the top ten. The Gators, who routed South Carolina 37-0, are the only newcomers, replacing Michigan, 21-20 victim of Purdue. LSU beat Kentucky 27-7; Syracuse topped Penn State 21-14 and the Seminoles edged Georgia 17-14.

Florida visits Alabama in Saturday's top attraction. The Gators surprised their Southeastern Conference rivals 10-6 a year ago at Tuscaloosa, Ala. Syracuse should have its hands full at once-beaten Oregon State. Wisconsin, fresh from a 31-21 upset of Iowa, invades Columbus, Ohio, for a Big Ten shot at the front-running Buckeyes.

TOP 10 VOTES
Notre Dame-Stanford, Arkansas-Wichita, Nebraska-Colorado, Texas-Rice, LSU-Tennessee and Florida State-Virginia Tech are the other pairings involving the top ten clubs.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, and total points:

Rank	Team	Points
1	Ohio State (35)	447
2	Notre Dame (2)	380
3	Alabama (5)	365
4	Arkansas (2)	297
5	Nebraska	230
6	Texas	194
7	Louisiana State	174
8	Syracuse	123
9	Florida	82
10	Florida State	64

Name Furney To All-East ECAC

NEW YORK (AP) — Three sophomore backs who among them accounted for six touchdowns Saturday were selected today to the weekly All East College Division Team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

They were Jim Ramich of Springfield and Dick Speckman of Cortland. Quarterback Bill Ruekauf, Hamilton junior who threw for three touchdowns in the Continentals' 26-22 victory over Swarthmore, was the fourth member of the week's backfield.

The linemen were Bub Furney, Gettysburg, center; ends John Slomback of A.I.C. and Larry Painter, Lebanon Valley; tackles Paul Lipof of Williams and Lucien Veneziano of C. W. Post; and guards Andy Dzurinko, Bucknell, and Howard Lovering, Norwich.

STROUDSBURG IS UNBEATEN

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — There's only one Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference football team left with an unblemished record — East Stroudsburg which is 5-0.

"FANTASTIKS" DISAPPOINT TV CRITIC SUNDAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Fantasticks" is an imaginative little musical comedy whose rudimentary scenery calls upon the audience to use its own imagination. It has been running off-Broadway for more than four years.

Sunday night NBC's "Hall of Fame" presented a more lavish adaptation of the theatrical hit as its premiere production of the television season.

Visually it was beautiful, as all "Hall of Fame" programs are likely to be. Scenically, it was far more specific.

BUT SOMETHING HAPPENED
The boy and the girl, John Davidson and Susan Watson, were handsome and sang well. Bert Lahr and Stanley Holloway are funny men under almost any circumstances, although comic material as the two fathers of the lovers was lean. Ricardo Montalban was graceful and held playing a sort of play catalyst in a dashing Mexican costume. The music was tuneful with lyrics that were philosophical, romantic and humorous.

But something unfortunate must have happened to "The Fantasticks" during its journey from stage to television. Perhaps it was because it was cut about one-third to fit into a television hour. Whatever the cause, the result was a rather dull, rambling and sometimes downright confusing story.

DINAH SHORE
On the other hand, it was very clear what Dinah Shore was doing in the first of her new ABC special programs on Saturday night. She was back after a year's absence in a familiar role as hostess singer and star of a variety hour.

With guest stars Rosemarie George Gobel and David Jansen, she spent most of the time in song and sketch alternating kidding and praising teen-agers. Generally the humor was gentle and the music was good. Dinah's new show, however, seemed to be missing some of the chic and silky smooth production that characterized her old NBC shows.

FIND FOUR WHO DIED IN CRASH

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—A search party on horseback recovered the bodies Sunday of four persons who died last June 28 when a light plane crashed shortly after leaving the Aspen Airport.

The plane, headed for Dallas, Tex., did not burn. The occupants' bodies were still tied securely by belts to their seats. The victims were Ed Gorman, 38, of Dallas; William Evans, 38, of McAllen, Tex.; the pilot; Gus Theoklis, 29, of Los Angeles; and Mrs. Edna Allison, about 45, of Williamsport, Pa.

Although the plane crashed only nine air miles northeast of Aspen, Sheriff Lorain Herwick led a six-man party that traveled 22 miles over the remote high mountain area to recover the bodies.

The recovery took 14 hours. Herwick said it appeared the plane had plunged straight down into the mountain side. There was high wind at the time.

SAYS COLD WAR WILL HARDEN

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says he believes there will be a hardening of the cold war because of changes in the Russian government, including the ouster of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, and the test explosion of a nuclear device by Red China.

Campaigning here Sunday in his bid for re-election, Scott told a news conference that he feels the nuclear explosion is interrelated with changes in the Soviet government.

"There will no doubt be an easing of tension between the Russians and the Chinese," he said. "It may be only temporary, but I believe it will result

Three Are Killed In Headon Crash

CUBA, N.Y. (AP)—Three persons were killed Monday and three injured—one critically—in a head-on automobile collision on a curve on Route 408 near this Allegany County community.

The dead were identified as Shirley Ann Mitchell, 24, of Little Genesee; Mrs. Grace Gates, 28, of Scio, and Gerald Murray, 38, of Little Genesee.

Listed in critical condition at Cuba Memorial Hospital was Carol D. Cox, 29, of Andrews, Tex. He was the sole occupant of one of the cars.

The hospital said Norman K. Mitchell, 27, of Shinglehouse, Pa., a cousin of the Mitchell woman, and Harlan Gates Jr., 31, Mrs. Gates' husband, were in fair condition.

EXPECT CHINA TO FIRE SECOND NUCLEAR BLAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials believe that the Chinese Communists may soon explode a second nuclear device.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday in a television interview on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that a second explosion might be forthcoming.

The first blast, last Friday, was predicted by Rusk in a late September statement. His forecast was based on U.S. intelligence information and estimates of the Chinese Communist nuclear capability.

At that time it was generally believed by Washington authorities that the Chinese would probably use up their supply of nuclear explosive material in one shot.

"LOW YIELD"
But the test they conducted Friday was described by American nuclear experts as having a low yield. Such a blast would not require an especially large amount of fissionable material — uranium or plutonium. The Chinese are known to have a number of atomic installations.

Officials said that a second detonation would not have any greater military significance than the first. All agree that the Chinese will require 5 to 10 years to accumulate even a modest stockpile of atomic weapons and the bombers or rockets to deliver them.

UPS PRESTIGE

The immediate significance of China's entry into the nuclear arms race is to be found in the effect on Red Chinese prestige and on the opportunity now created for the Chinese to engage in nuclear diplomacy.

President Johnson referred in his speech to the nation Sunday night to the danger of "nuclear blackmail" and offered assurance to China's neighbors that they will have strong U.S. support if they ever need it in resisting efforts to pressure them into knuckling under to Chinese Communist demands.

U.S. officials say that in terms of building prestige and creating an impression of power which they would hope was frightening to their neighbors, the Red Chinese leaders may well estimate that two or three explosions would be much better than one.

SAYRE, Pa. (AP)—Tracy J. Silkman, 64, was ordered held to the grand jury Monday for the fatal shooting of his wife, Sadie, 64, last Friday in their home. Silkman made no statement at the hearing before Justice of the Peace Albert Frank. He was ordered returned to the county jail at Towanda.

in a hardening of the cold war."

He said the Chinese communists have "at the moment a very small atomic bomb and not a weapon." However, he added, China undoubtedly will work toward increasing the power of its bomb, the development of its nuclear energy into weaponry and then into a hydrogen bomb.

Scott said he understands that the removal of Khrushchev was led by Mikhail Suslov, whom he described as a "hardline Stalinist."

The senator said he will refuse to discuss the case of former presidential aide Walter Jenkins, who resigned after his second arrest on a morals charge.

LBJ SAYS U. S. STARTED WELL WITH RED HEADS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told congressional leaders Monday that the United States has made a "good beginning" in relations with the new leaders of the Soviet Union and hopes the Kremlin will join in renewed efforts to block any further spread of nuclear weapons.

Johnson stressed both these points Sunday night in a report to the nation in which he also spoke of the possible use by Red China of "nuclear blackmail" against other countries, now that it has exploded its first test bomb.

TEMPT OTHERS

He warned, furthermore, that what he calls China's "expensive and demanding effort (to build nuclear weapons) tempts other states to equal folly — nuclear spread is dangerous to all mankind."

"We continue to believe," Johnson said, "that the struggle against nuclear spread is as much in the Soviet interest as in our own. We will be ready to join with them and all the world — in working to avoid it."

At the same time the President announced in his radio-television address that Washington will continue to support the limited nuclear test-ban treaty which the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and more than 100 other nations signed last year. France and Communist China did not sign.

ASKS SUPPORT

"We call on the world — especially Red China — to join the nations which have signed that treaty," Johnson said.

The meeting with congressional leaders, both Democrats and Republicans, was scheduled for the White House early this afternoon. It was set up at the

AMERICANS' SAVINGS AND DEBTS AT PEAK

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Never have so many Americans owed so much. That would be an alarming fact, particularly this week which is the 47th observance of National Thrift Week, except for another fact — never have personal savings been so high.

And while debts have been mounting, so have savings. This year may well set a record for the amount that individuals have squirreled away.

Some families seem to specialize in savings, and others in going into debt. But an increasing number apparently do a bit of both.

PERSONAL INCOME UP

This has been made possible by the steady rise in personal incomes. And this year there has been the added bonus of the federal income tax cut, showing up in higher take-home pay.

The major savings institutions of the nation have taken in $50 billion in new savings in the last two years. This inflow of savings is the largest ever recorded in a two-year period.

The latest available statistics show the trend continuing. In September the nation's 507 mutual savings banks reported deposits rose $480 million to a total of $47.3 billion. This was a record increase for any September. The August gain had been $344 million.

BOND SALES HIGHER

U.S. Savings Bond sales of $358 million were the largest for any September in the last seven years. Despite withdrawals, public holdings of these bonds rose $81 million to a total of $48,019,000,000.

The public has many other ways of fattening its financial assets. In the April-May-June quarter individuals added $15.4 billion to their holdings. Increases were reported in all the categories the government statistics include: currency and all types of bank deposits; savings and loan shares; securities of all types; private insurance and pension reserves; and government insurance and pension reserves.

Consumer spending also is end of last week. Officials said that the President would cover substantially the same ground and the same major points which he made in his television broadcast on last week's sensational developments in the Soviet Union and Red China.

rising. It's now running around $404.5 billion a year. But the government figures individuals are now saving at a $35.2 billion annual rate.

A LOT OF MONEY

This has brought personal financial holdings above $1.25 trillion, and a trillion is a lot of money. Individual debts have climbed steadily, too. The total of consumer credit, mortgages, stock market credit and the like now is estimated at $260 billion.

And that is a lot to owe. But the financial assets, assuming they could be cashed in, would cover it with almost a trillion dollars to spare.

CAMPAIGN HAS BROUGHT FLOOD OF NEW BOOKS

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP) — The 1964 presidential campaign may seem lackluster and less than enthralling so far, but it has touched off a parallel contest — call it "The Battle of the Books" — that is making history.

Seldom if ever, has an election generated so much hawking, pro and con, about the candidates and the issues.

In circulation today are millions of copies of books, hard covers, soft covers, standard biographies, newly published examinations of "extremism," and "spook" books made up of cartoons and photographs.

A representative of Publishers Weekly, trade journal of publishing, estimates that more than 50 books relating to the campaign are on the shelves. Said an executive of a New York publishing house, "In over 30 years in this business, I have never seen anything like it."

What's causing it?

There are almost as many answers to this question as there are books.

One is that high passions, pro and con, swirl around both President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater. Each has his ardent admirers and fervent detractors. You would have to go back to the 1930s, to Franklin D. Roosevelt and the jagged feelings about the New Deal, to find the equivalent of today — but a flood of books, tracts and pamphlets did not appear then.

Are the publications affecting the campaign?

DISCOURAGED BY GOP
On Oct. 8, the Democratic national chairman, John M. Bailey, urged the GOP to publicly repudiate what he called "hate" books attacking Johnson and the Democratic party.

Lee Edwards, assistant publicity director of the Republican National Committee, said the committee has no connection with the publication or distribution of such books as "None Dare Call It Treason," "A Choice Not an Echo," or "A Texan Looks at Lyndon."

WHY NOT DENIED

"In fact," Edwards said, "we have actively discouraged their sale by Republican groups."

He said some local GOP and Goldwater groups have been distributing the books, usually as a fund-raising device.

On a recent opinion-sampling tour of the South and Southwest, this correspondent heard a good deal of talk, among those questioned, about "A Texan Looks at Lyndon." The book, by J. Evetts Haley of Canyon, Tex., is subtitled, "A Study in Illegitimate Power."

The frequently voiced comment was, "Well, if what that book says about Johnson isn't true, why doesn't he deny it, or sue, or something?"

AROUND 8 MILLION

Haley said in an interview that his latest figure on the sale of the book was around 7.3 million copies. "But that was weeks ago," he said. "It may be around eight million now."

Haley said he had researched the subject "over a period of many years." He wrote it in six months, he said, and the first copy came off the presses last June 15. He declined to identify the firm "up north" that printed the first copies.

He said he did not submit the manuscript to an established book-publishing house "because I felt sure they would want to emasculate it."

DISCLAIMS PRESSURES
But, Haley said, "no group whatever, no party and no individual had anything whatever to do with the conception, financing, publication, or general distribution of the book."

A number of biographies of Johnson have appeared and another book is subtitled, "A Candid Look at the President's Policy Makers."

A publication bearing the President's own name is titled, "My Hope for America." It is organized into 13 chapters that deal with the presidency and the problems confronting the nation today, at home and abroad. Spelling out "My Hope," the book says:

"Reality rarely matches dream. But only dreams give nobility to purpose."

FULL OF QUOTES
"This is the star I hope to follow — which I know most of you have seen, and which I first glimpsed many years ago in the Texas night."

A book critical of Goldwater is subtitled "Extremist of the Right." It describes him as a "nuclear-tipped rocket," "intemperate," and a man with "a salesman's personality." It quotes him as saying, in Sacramento, Calif., last March 4:

"This extremist march is not worthy of discussion at any responsible level, unless it's the left-wing extremists who are in government. I just can't for the life of me see how extremism — as it has been explained to me — can have any bearing on the issues in this or any other state. It's an issue for small minds."

Sam Brightman, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said this book is advertised in "The Democrat," the party's newspaper. The ads say that the book can be obtained through the national committee.

But Brightman said, "We're just a transmission agency."

WIDE VARIETY
He said local and state committees are using other books about Goldwater for fund-raising purposes.

Several biographies claim to show, in statements attributed to the senator, what he has said on a wide range of issues. Sources and dates are given for each statement.

Along with the straight studies of "extremism," a comic "nonbook," as the authors call it, kids extremists on both the right and left. Example, in a list of definitions:

"Wall-eyed fanatic — An East Berliner who wants to get into West Berlin."

NEW YORK (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, assistant secretary of state and former ambassador to the Soviet Union, says the present regime in Hungary "has begun to break off the domination of Moscow."

Speaking at a meeting of the Democratic party's Hungarian section in New York Sunday, Harriman declined to speculate on the effects of the ouster of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

BOY FLEEING POLICE KILLED ACCIDENTALLY

FALLSINGTON, Pa. (AP) — An 18-year-old New York City youth fleeing from policemen in a burglary investigation, was shot and killed Monday when one of the officers slipped and his pistol discharged.

Three other youths, who said they were the victim's companions were injured when a car they were driving crashed into a tree about two miles from the burglarized service station in this Bucks County community. Police said they admitted burglarizing the station. The loot amounted to $9.45.

Police said the dead youth was Allan J. Samoray of Queens Village, a part of The Queens, New York City.

Police said Samoray was struck by a bullet fired by the gun of patrolman George Mitchell when he slipped in the mud while pursuing the youth.

Mitchell and patrolman Robert Dapp, responding to a burglary report, surprised four burglars at the service station. The burglars fled. The officers said they hid out at the station, expecting the burglars to return to two autos parked nearby.

A youth, later identified as Samoray, approached the station, but fled when the officers tried to arrest him. As they pursued him across a field, calling for him to halt, the accidental shooting occurred, they said.

The three other youths, Charles Stockers, 15; Brian Saul, 16, and Donald Sufa, 16, all of Queens Village, suffered minor injuries when their auto crashed into a tree. Police said the auto had been reported stolen from Ray Morovelli, 37, of Levittown, Pa.

29-Year Old Boys Missing In Ohio
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Two third-grade boys who were last seen at 4 p.m. Thursday were still missing Monday.

"We have received phone calls from all over the Greater Cincinnati area," Police Chief James Finan of suburban Fairfax said after a rainstorm and darkness put an end to a massive search of an open field between Fairfax and the Little Miami River late Sunday.

The chief said he had alerted law enforcement officers in the eastern United States to look out for Johnny Hundley and Jimmy McQueary, both 9. There have been reports the Hundley boy told other children he planned to run away from home.

Scranton Backs Whole GOP Slate

KINGSTON, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Scranton has urged Republicans to support the GOP ticket "from top to bottom on Nov. 3."

"We must return government to the people and remove the 'big' from the term," Scranton said Saturday night in an address before 2,000 Republicans.

The occasion was a testimonial dinner for Scranton held by the Luzerne County Republican Committee.

"We need once again the strong and firm policy of President Eisenhower and the late John Foster Dulles," Scranton said.

In Pennsylvania, Scranton said unemployment was reduced from 5.2 per cent to 4.7 per cent during his first year in office.

York Springs

YORK SPRINGS — Mrs. Leroy Fink was discharged Thursday from the Carlisle Hospital.

The Church of God Missionary Society met Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Decker with 15 members present. A three-month study course on the book of Ephesians is being taught by Mrs. Nellie LaRue. In the absence of the pastor on Sunday the society plans to hold a missionary program on "Preparation for Christmas." The offering and sales amounted to $30.50. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson, Gettysburg R. 3, Nov. 19.

Rev. Ross Mitchell, Harrisburg, will be the guest speaker Sunday night at the Church of God.

Miss Margaret Dentler is in a serious condition in the Chambersburg Hospital as the result of a fall. She fractured a hip. She is a sister of Mrs. Josie Miller.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, says that the wellbeing of people is the only human goal worth achieving.

Speaking before about 400 persons at the dedication of the new St. Louis Jewish Center for the Aged Sunday, he said that man must match technical progress with social progress.

"By helping to free people from poverty, we release hopes and aspirations that otherwise would be stifled in a daily struggle for sheer survival," he said.

MISS ANDREWS IS DISCOVERED BY HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I almost wish I could close my eyes and make time stand still," says Julie Andrews. "It's been so wonderful so far, but I know things are going to get a bit busy and crazy. If only it would stay the way it is!"

If Julie were truly Mary Poppins, she could exert her magic and make it so. But, apart from Disney fantasies, time does have a way of moving on. And so do the life and career of Hollywood's newest joy, Julie Andrews.

She was, of course, a smash hit in "The Boy Friend," "My Fair Lady" and "Camelot" on Broadway. But the movie crowd was slow in realizing her worth. They are moving swiftly to make amends.

MANY WILL PAY
In crass terms of dollars, that worth can be measured: Her present price of $400,000 per picture vs. $150,000 a year ago. And there are many who are willing to pay it.

Aside from monetary terms, it can be reported that Hollywood hasn't been so delighted over any newcomer since Audrey Hepburn — the star who is playing Julie's role in the film of "My Fair

Republicans Hope To Increase Senate Majority By One Seat In November; Democrats Seek To Hold Incumbents

(Editor's Note: There are many facts to the Nov. 3 election important to the citizens of Pennsylvania. One of them is the composition of the state Senate. Here is the first report of a four-part series.)

By VINCENT A. CAROCCI

Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republicans are looking to increase their state Senate majority by at least one seat in the Nov. 3 elections while the Democrats are hoping for at least an even break.

The GOP has an easy formula for achieving its expectations. Party strategists figure they can:

—Win all 11 of the Republican seats up for election.

—Capture three of the six districts reshuffled by the Reapportionment Act of 1963.

—Split even in the two special elections on the ballot to fill unexpired terms.

HOPE FOR BREAK

With bated breath and their fingers crossed for a break or two, they talk of the possibilities of winning one, maybe even two seats now held by the Democrats seeking re-election.

The Democrats, meanwhile:

—Believe they can retain all eight of their incumbencies.

—Expect to split the special balloting.

—Gaze optimistically at prospects of winning four of the six reapportioned districts.

—Hold out a faint hope of upsetting two GOP incumbents.

By Republican calculations, the party will have at least 28 members for the 1965 session—maybe 29 or 30, depending on how they fare in the potential upsets of democratic incumbents.

EVEN SPLIT

From the Democratic viewpoint, it would add up to a 25-25 split in the chamber.

Thirteen Republican incumbents and 10 Democrats are not up for election this year.

The contests are clouded by the fact that 1964 is a presidential year and the politicians can not precisely determine the effect their national tickets will have on the local candidates.

Further complicating this election is the fact that the State Supreme Court has found the 1963 reapportionment law to be in violation of the "one-man, one-vote" principle laid down by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The state's highest court has ordered the legislature to adopt a new reapportionment statute by September, 1965, to apply in the 1966 elections.

This means that the 50 districts as now comprised will not be in effect two years hence and candidates elected in November may find their constituencies change the next time they run.

Many familiar faces in the so-called Upper House will be missing when the gavel falls next January.

Five incumbents—three Democrats and two Republicans—were legislated out of their seats with the reapportionment law.

LOSING CANDIDATES

Two others, one Democrat and one Republican, were beaten in the April primary.

Most prominent among the missing will be M. Harvey Taylor, the 88-year-old, six-term Republican power from Dauphin County.

Taylor, president pro tempore of the Senate, was beaten in a startling primary upset by William B. Lentz, a Millersburg realtor and political unknown.

Lentz, who apparently has made his peace with the Republican organization Taylor controls, is opposed by Democrat John D. Killian, a former deputy attorney general during the Democratic Lawrence and Republican Scranton administrations.

LENTZ IS FAVORED

Lentz, who has better than a 50-1 registration advantage going for him, is the favorite.

The other incumbent who lost in the primary was Democrat John Carl Miller of Beaver County.

His county now stands alone as the 47th District under the realignment and the Republicans figure the contest as a close one although one prominent Democrat said flatly: "We'll win it."

That race pits Democrat Ernest P. Kline, Beaver Falls, against Republican Sam M. McCune of Rochester.

TROUBLED INCUMBENTS

The incumbents reportedly in varying shades of trouble are: Democrats William Sesler, the 9th District of Erie County, and John Haluska, the 33rd District of Cambria County, and Republicans Albert R. Pechan of Ford City, the 41st District, and D. Elmer Hawbaker of Mercersburg, the 33rd District.

Sesler, a freshman senator, is involved in a close race with Republican Fred W. Lamberton, a five-term county commission-

Young Prisoner Sets Costly Blaze

TOWANDA, Pa. (AP)—Police chief Dean Meredith says Richard Coolbaugh, 21, of Towanda, now a prisoner at the state penitentiary at Tucker, Ark., has admitted setting a million dollar fire that wrecked four downtown businesses last New Year's day.

Meredith said Sunday he had talked with Coolbaugh at the Arkansas institute. Meredith said Coolbaugh also admitted committing 14 burglaries in the Towanda area since September 1963.

Coolbaugh is serving a term in Arkansas on burglary charges. Meredith said he filed detainers to return Coolbaugh here when his term in Arkansas expires next June.

STEAL RARE COINS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Maurice R. Krauskopf, 71, told police that while he and his wife were out for a walk, Sunday, burglars got into their Rittenhouse Square apartment and took rare coins and jewelry valued at $10,000.

Sesler's problems stem chiefly from his vote against legislation in 1963 to provide school bus transportation for private and parochial school children.

His was one of two Democratic votes which meant defeat for the bill and the issue reportedly is a big one in the predominantly Catholic county of Erie.

In Haluska's district, organized labor reportedly is behind Republican Richard J. Green Jr., a state representative who refused to vote for the Scranton administration's unemployment compensation bill.

Haluska, however, has earned himself the reputation of being a political maverick with surprisingly strong independent strength.

Pechan's difficulty reportedly is two-fold.

The Democrats are concentrating much of their attack on his vote for increased liquor taxes in 1953 after first indicating he would not support the measure.

His district contains a large distillery and they hope resentment over this question is strong enough to sway the vote.

ENLARGED DISTRICT

Republicans are concerned about the fact that two new counties—Indiana and Jefferson—were added to his district and that he may "be vulnerable in new territory."

Hawbaker, meanwhile, was unequivocal in his support of Scranton's unemployment compensation program and the Democrats stress this point.

The two special elections are for two-year terms.

Republican State Rep. Wilmont E. Fleming of Jenkintown rates a strong favorite to defeat Democrat Michael H. Malin of Ambler for the 12th district Senate seat in Montgomery County, a Republican haven.

This is to fill a vacancy caused by the unexpected resignation of Republican Morton H. Fetterolf Jr., former House majority whip, only months after he had won a special election to succeed the late Sen. Henry Probert, also a Republican.

The other vacancy is in the 18th district of Northampton County where Democrat Justin Jiruliano is running against Republican Earl Garland for the seat made vacant by the death of Sen. Gus Verona, a Democrat. The district has a reputation for going Democratic.

FORMER LABOR SECRETARY FOR IKE DIES AT 63

NEW YORK (AP)—James P. Mitchell, 63, secretary of labor in the Eisenhower administration died Monday in his suite at the Astor Hotel.

He apparently suffered a heart attack. A physician was with him when he died, the hotel said.

Mitchell, big and bluff, but with an air of relaxed charm, had little formal education but a vast background in personnel management when President Dwight D. Eisenhower named him to the Cabinet in 1953.

LABOR RELATIONS EXPERT

He had been an expert in labor relations for New York department stores, civilian manpower chief for the armed forces during World War II and assistant secretary of the Army.

Organized labor was lukewarm to his appointment at first. Later AFL-CIO President George Meany was to refer to him as the greatest secretary of labor this country had ever had.

After leaving the Cabinet with the change of administration, Mitchell returned to his native New Jersey and ran unsuccessfully for governor in 1961. His campaign was halted temporarily by a broken leg. But the 6-foot, 200-pound candidate soon resumed stumping with the aid of crutches and later a cane.

THERE ON BUSINESS

The next year he became vice president of the Crown Zellerbach Corp., paper making firm, with offices in San Francisco and residence in Hillsborough, Calif.

He was visiting New York for a business conference when he

Soviet Transport Plane Crashes, 3 Die

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A Soviet-built transport plane with 16 persons aboard, one of six delivered to the Indonesian air force last month, has crashed in southern Sumatra, reliable sources said Monday.

At least three persons died in the accident Friday in the Palembang area, the sources said. The passengers included a dancing troupe and television performers on their way to entertain troops.

was stricken. He had registered at the hotel Saturday night.

Born in Elizabeth, N.J., Nov. 12, 1900, Mitchell was a son of Peter J. and Ann C. Driscoll Mitchell. He finished high school a year ahead of time, but there his formal education stopped.

Mitchell is survived by his widow, the former Isabel Nulton; his mother, Mrs. Peter Mitchell of Elizabeth, N.J.; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Natchez; three sisters, Miss Anne Mitchell; Mrs. Richard Schleck of Essex Falls, N.J.; Mrs. Michael Bockwith of Washington, D.C., and three grandchildren.

RED AIRLINER FALLS, BURNS

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—An airliner, carrying a Soviet delegation reported headed by Marshal Sergei S. Biryuzov, crashed and burned Monday on Avala Hill, 10 miles south of Belgrade.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said there were no survivors.

Biryuzov, 59, rose last year from commander of rocket forces to chief of the Soviet general staff under the administration of Nikita Khrushchev, who was deposed last Wednesday as premier and Soviet Communist party head.

The Soviet delegation was en route to Belgrade for a celebration of the 20th anniversary of the World War II liberation of Belgrade.

The plane took off from Moscow this morning. Because of fog shrouding Belgrade, the plane was ordered to put down at an airport north of the city. But it overshot that airport.

School Children To Induce Voting

NEW YORK (AP)—A nationwide, nonpartisan effort will be made next week by school children to induce more adults to cast ballots in the Nov. 3 election.

In the campaign announced Sunday, teams of school children will canvass their neighborhoods on a door-to-door basis seeking pledges from adults that they will vote.

The program will be sponsored jointly by the American Heritage Foundation, the Parent Teacher Association and the National Education Association.

Cartoonist Al Capp suggested the campaign in a letter to former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The teams will wear no political insignia and they will be required to promise not to make mention of politics.

MOTHER IS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

MECHANICSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A Mechanicsburg mother was killed Monday night and three others were injured in the collision of a small foreign-made car and a tractor-trailer two miles north of here.

The dead woman was Mrs. Anna B. Wagner, 49, driver of the car. Her two teen-age sons and the truck driver were hurt in the crash at the intersection of Route 11 and Legislative Route 21051 (Silver Spring Rd.).

It was the second fatal accident of the day in Cumberland County.

FATAL ON RT. 34

Earlier, Donald W. Shughart, 17, of Mt. Holly Springs died when the car in which he and two other teen-agers were riding struck a bridge abutment on rain-slick Route 34, about three miles south of Carlisle. The two other youths were hospitalized.

State police said the car-truck mishap occurred when the car went through a stop sign and into the path of the tractor-trailer.

Admitted to Harrisburg Hospital were Thomas A. Wagner, 15, and Jerry Ward Lambert, 25, of Edinburg, Va. The boy's condition was listed as unsatisfactory; the truck driver was in satisfactory condition.

Eric S. Wagner, 13, was treated at the hospital and released. The driver, David L. Rose, 17, of Carlisle, a Marine private on leave, was taken to two area hospitals before being transferred to the Philadelphia Navy Hospital. His condition was satisfactory.

The third teen-ager in the car was John C. Keck, 17, also of Carlisle. He was in fair condition at Carlisle Hospital.

"Maverick" Costar Divorced By Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Jack Kelly, once costar of the television series "Maverick," was divorced Monday by actress May Wynne.

The couple married Oct. 14, 1956, and separated last Feb. 24. They had no children.

Miss Wynne, 33, testified that Kelly, 36, stayed out all night several times. "When I asked where he had been, he would say it was none of my business," she said.

GOP CHARGES SUPPRESSION IN FCC RULING

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch says President Johnson's nationwide address Sunday night was "purely political" and the government's refusal to order equal time for Sen. Barry Goldwater amounts to information "suppression and manipulation."

The GOP will sue the Federal Communications Commission in an effort to overturn Monday's ruling that the President's television-radio broadcast — on air time provided free by the network — does not fall within the equal time provisions of the Communications Act. Burch said Monday night.

The Republican chairman charged the administration with news suppression and appealed for funds to finance a half-hour broadcast by Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, Wednesday night. Johnson's "free program" was worth about half a million dollars, he said.

Burch spoke on NBC on time provided without charge by the network after it, CBS and ABC had rejected his request that Goldwater be given equal time to match Johnson's broadcast — on free time — and the FCC had backed up their decision.

After Burch spoke, Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey sent a telegram to William McAndrew, NBC's vice president in charge of news, saying the GOP chairman had "talked about extraneous issues and made a plea for contributions to the Republican campaign."

"I would like a response as to whether NBC believes the Democratic party is now entitled to time to respond," Bailey said.

PATIENTS TURN THUMBS DOWN ON MODERN ART

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Young patients of the children's ward at University of Michigan Hospital just don't appreciate modern art.

They had a chance to have a print of Georges Braque's "Still Life—The Table" hung on their walls. One of them said: "It looks like a junkpile."

They had a chance to have Maurice Utrillo's famous "Cathedral at Rheims" hung on the wall. One of them said: "If he'd paint some ghosts coming out of the walls, he'd have it made."

CHILDREN MAKE CHOICE

So, an art committee of the hospital's volunteer's guild is installing paintings a little more suited to young patients' tastes. The more welcome paintings include six works chosen by an "art jury" of nearly two dozen members of the younger hospital set.

In contrast with the prints of the masterpieces, the youngsters chose from a selection of paintings done by students at the Forsyth Junior High School art classes in Ann Arbor.

These were the ones they really liked, the children explained.

NURSERY CHARACTERS

"Hickory, Dickory Dock," for example, won unanimous approval. "Little Jack Horner" also was accepted unanimously.

With some seated in wheelchairs, others displaying bandages and all in hospital garb, the critics aged 4 to 12 watched while volunteer guild members lifted each painting for judging. "I get sicker the more I look at it," said one juror, scratching his adhesive tape while examining Renoir's "Patinage a Longchamps."

A student painting of a rhinoceros, done in red, yellow and orange, won prompt approval, however.

The only masterpiece deemed acceptable was Georges Pierre Seurat's "The Seine at Courbevoie." It beat the rhinoceros by two votes.

Named Director Of Royal Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth, has been elected a director of the Royal Crown Cola Co.

W. H. Glenn, president of the company — and no relation to the astronaut — said Monday Glenn would join the soft drink firm after he retires from the Marine Corps within the next few months.

Glenn's retirement has been delayed pending his recovery from an inner ear injury suffered in a fall earlier this year. The fall forced his withdrawal from a race for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate in Ohio.

INDICTED IN TRUCK BLAST

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — The American Cyanamid Co. and a truck driver have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of violating Interstate Commerce Commission regulations in connection with an explosion at Marshalls Creek, Pa., which killed six persons and injured 10 others.

The driver, Albert J. Koda, of Port Carbond, Pa., was ordered held in $1,000 bail Monday on charges of failure to properly placard the explosives truck and failure to stay with the vehicle.

American Cyanamid was indicted on four counts: transporting explosives without proper markings on the truck; leaving the vehicle unattended; failure to instruct the driver about proper placards; and failure to instruct the driver not to leave the truck unattended.

Federal Judge William J. Nealon directed the company to appear for arraignment at 11 a. m. Friday.

The explosives truck, laden with 4,000 pounds of dynamite, was bound from Pottsville, Pa. to Fosterdale, N. Y., when it exploded last May 26.

MIKOYAN HAS SURVIVED IN NEW RED SHIFT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Nikita Khrushchev was ousted last week, it was his old friend Anastas I. Mikoyan who presided as the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet stripped Khrushchev of the premiership.

It is unlikely that Khrushchev, 70, was surprised.

It is even more unlikely that Mikoyan, 69 next month, batted an eye.

Luck, utter ruthlessness and the wily art of switching sides have stood Mikoyan in good stead for more than four decades. Again he has managed to survive in the dark and often bloody Soviet politics.

HE IS TOUGH

The hawknosed, stoop-shouldered old Bolshevik with the clipped mustache is tough. He is a cynic, a hard bargainer. He is adroit.

Alone among Stalin's cronies and drinking companions, alone among the many non-Slavs who helped lead the Revolution, Mikoyan remains in the Soviet elite 47 years later, even though cast in the largely ceremonial role of president.

Mikoyan was born of Armenian parents near the Georgian capital of Tiflis, a carpenter's son. When he was 20, he was graduated with full honors from a theological seminary, trained for the Armenian priesthood.

ESCAPED DEATH

"But when I received my certificate," Mikoyan said later, "I had a very clear feeling that I did not believe in God and that I had, in fact, received a materialistic uncertainty."

Captured by anti-Communists during the civil war after the Bolshevik Revolution, Mikoyan staged a spectacular jail break and escaped the firing squad.

An experienced street brawler with a smashed nose, Mikoyan caught on with the fast-rising Stalin, also a Georgian and an ex-seminarian. Although a full Politburo member by 1935, Stalin apparently never fully trusted Mikoyan.

But Mikoyan got through the bloody Stalinist purges by making himself an indispensable expert in foreign trade.

CLOSE COLLABORATOR

Mikoyan was the first Soviet leader to attack Stalin after the feared dictator died, opening the way for Khrushchev's famous denunciation of the Stalin personality cult.

To the outside world Mikoyan appeared to be Khrushchev's closest collaborator among the men who won the Kremlin after Joseph Stalin died. He backed Khrushchev in 1957 when the Central Committee's Presidium voted to get rid of him as Communist party first secretary.

The full Central Committee reversed the vote, showing that Mikoyan had a sixth sense of how things would go.

Following the purge of Georgia Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich, Mikoyan stayed on as deputy premier.

Even if one failed to react to Mason's gestures, and many did not even notice them — the casual viewer could see that the comedian was not winding up his performance as fast as the show's director wanted. On a live show, particularly a variety show, it is vital that acts obey instructions with drill team precision to keep the program on its tight time schedule.

Mason seemed reluctant to leave the spotlight.

From this apparently innocent viewer's standpoint, Mason's worst sin seemed to be that he just wasn't funny and his jokes seemed pointless.

2 Swedish Officers Are Sent To Prison

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Two Swedish lieutenants of the U.N. Cyprus peace force were sentenced to two years at hard labor Monday and stripped of their rank for smuggling arms to Turkish Cypriots. They said they acted from idealistic motives.

Lars W. Lindh, 27, and Helge Hjalmarsson, 28, were caught in the act in northwest Cyprus late in September and brought home for trial.

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL 442-8203

ORRTANNA — The monthly meeting of the Women's Society of World Service of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church was held last Monday evening in the church hall with 10 members present.

The president, Mrs. Robert Shindler, opened the meeting with prayer. After a hymn, reports of officers were approved. It was announced that the Thank Offering boxes should be presented at the next meeting.

A Christmas committee comprises Mrs. Ruby Wetzel, Mrs. Alfred Gotwalt, and Mrs. Martha Mae Baker. Some discussion arose as to the annual visit to the Quincy EUB home.

The study class will be held November 3 at the home of Mrs. Ruby Wetzel. The leader for the next meeting will be Mrs. Gotwalt, November 9 at the same place at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. George Haines was leader for the worship part of the program. After the hymn, "All Hail the Power," the chapter considered for the evening was "Under Three Flags." Other members participated.

Mrs. Clyde Metz was the accompanist for group singing. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer in unison.

"I shall await further word from you."

Sincerely, /s/ George" quarters of 1964, more than double the 1963 figures for the same period of $1,961,138 and $2.06 per share.

Lukens also reported Monday that sales for the first 40 weeks of this year were $87,577,738, compared with the 1963 three-quarter figure of $73,490,155.

BANK ROBBER IS FOILED BY TAP WATER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "This is nitroglycerin," said the bank bandit, nervously brandishing a small bottle of colorless fluid. "Give me all your money!"

Then, accidentally, he dropped the bottle.

It broke, spilling tap water on the marble floor.

"Oh, darn," said the bandit, as bank employees closed in and grabbed him.

It was one of the two bank robberies which occur according to FBI statistics, every three banking days in Los Angeles County.

ROBBERY CAPITAL

For Los Angeles, bankers will tell you as their eyes rove nervously over the lobby, is the bank robbery capital of the nation.

Police say that so far this year bandits have taken more than a quarter of a million dollars from banks in the city. Outlying areas have lost more.

Despite the ineptness of some of the bandits, most get some money.

"See that worker in the wheel chair?" asked a bank official pointing across the firm's executive office. "He was a trainee teller who was shot and paralyzed because he didn't move fast enough for a bandit."

STRESS COMPLIANCE

"That's why we stress strict compliance. We tell our employees: 'Try and remember what he looks like. But do what he says.'"

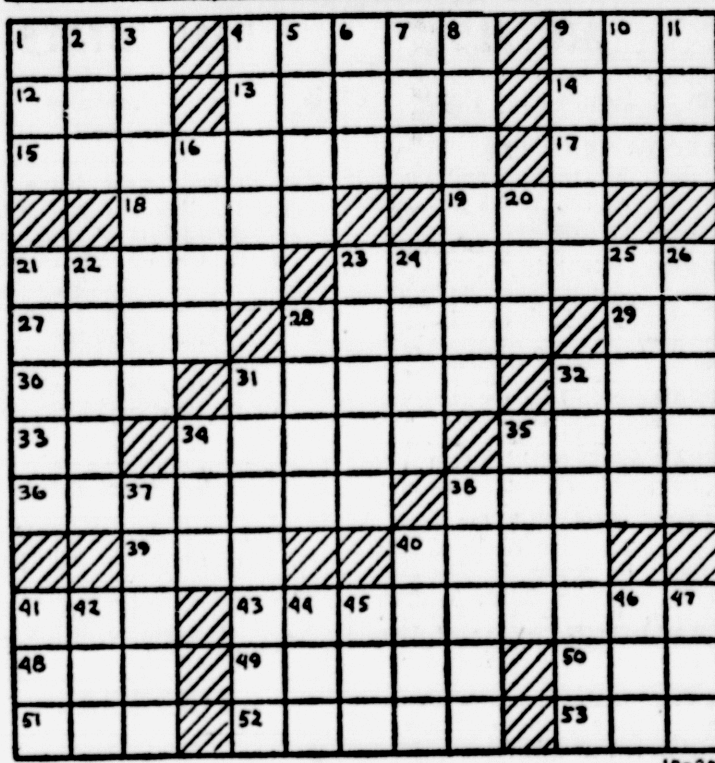

Once the bandit walks out of the bank with his loot — a one-teller robbery is rarely good for more than $1,000 — his trouble starts.

The Bank of America has a security system that includes a hidden movie camera, triggered by the teller, which takes the robber's picture.

Public awareness of the problem also helps.

One amateur was captured when a woman customer, parking in the bank's lot, thought it strange that a man with a sack climbed into the trunk of his car and closed the lid. She told police, who flushed out the man.

SCOTT RECORD IS ATTACKED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., said Monday that Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who is seeking re-election, "has consistently opposed or attempted to minimize up-to-date solutions to our economic problems."

"We must have national economic and employment goals," Clark said in an address prepared for the Council 11 Retail Clerks annual convention. Clark also called for "new programs to help workers, communities and industries adjust to shifts in defense spending; an upgrading of the nation's entire educational system; special attention to the employment of groups long plagued by high unemployment; and increased efforts by labor and management to deal with job problems spawned by technological change."

"We will not have measures of this magnitude and adequacy with a Republican Administration in the White House," said Clark, who has been campaigning for the Democratic ticket.

"And Pennsylvania's voice on behalf of such measures will continue to be muted if Sen. Scott is re-elected," said Clark. Scott's Democratic opponent is Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs.

12 Million Pounds Of Potatoes Burn

COHOCTON, N.Y. (AP) — A warehouse fire has meant to a Pennsylvania potato chip firm the loss of 12 million pounds of potatoes and an estimated $500,000 damage.

The fire erupted shortly after noon Saturday in the warehouse on the edge of this Steuben County community. Samuel Herman of Millersville, Pa., manager of the warehouse for Charles Chips Farm Inc., estimated the loss.

GOP TOPS DEMOCRATS

HARRISBURG (A) — With 53 of Pennsylvania's 67 counties certifying their registration figures for the Nov. 3 election, Republicans outnumber Democrats 1,311,019 to 1,079,960. Among those still to be heard from, however, are Philadelphia and Allegheny, the state's two largest Democratic strongholds.

agreement at American Motors came in Monday's early hours, after almost 40 hours of near-continuous negotiations.

worried about age?

here's truth about hormones for face, neck and hands

NEW YORK (Special) — Reams have been written about hormones. Will they make women of 75 look 16 again? Absolutely not. Will they make women of 60 feel like they were 20 again?

To know the truth about hormones you need to learn just two simple facts: (1) The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of age begin, because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin—less and less as you grow older. (2) Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing on a penetrating formula containing the hormones.

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similarly sensational results: Twenty-five women applied hormones to one side of the face and neck, and to the other hand, a similar preparation containing no hormones was applied the same way.

These are the reports in simple words: Skin lines (or dry-skin wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled out. Blemishes and "old-age freckles" faded on hands, face and neck. Skin was softer, clearer, seemed
